

Car Wash Suit Against D. C. Bared

New Law Initiated

Attorney Claims Proposed D.C. Rules 'Punitive'

By FRANK LAPIERRE

An ordinance aimed at operation of self-service car washes was introduced to the Daly City Council last week — two months after a law suit was "quietly" filed against the city by the M & R Car Wash.

Robert Hunter, attorney for the complainants, said the proposed law "was an obvious punitive measure" by the council against his clients, Ross Schendel and Mario Caprini.

The suit was filed November 30 in the Superior Court of San Mateo at Redwood City, by Schendel and Caprini, co-owners of the car wash on Sullivan Avenue, and was not publicized by either parties because of a "gentlemen's agreement."

"All involved agreed to let the court quietly test the suit, free of outside publicity," Hunter explained.

Asked about the "agreement," City Atty. Albert Polonsky denied knowledge of such an arrangement and said the suit and the proposed ordinance were not related.

"Had we proposed the ordinance after the suit was settled, it could still have been construed as a 'punitive measure,'" Polonsky said.

Originally those named in the suit included the city council and Planning Commission, but was amended January 4 excluding these two bodies.

Since its November filing date, the matter has been postponed several times. Primary reason given for the holdovers was the appointment on December 16 of Polonsky as city attorney, replacing Paul Hupf.

The time was needed by Polonsky to familiarize himself with this new position, according to both attorneys.

Caprini and Schendel are asking the court for "declaratory relief" regarding the former city attorney's opinion concerning a newly built car wash on the corner of Hillside Boulevard and Market Street.

The latter car wash, subject of neighborhood pickets and loud protests during the past few months, was constructed on a C-1 zoned plot, while the M & R Car Wash was built on C-2 zoned property.

According to Hunter, his

Pacifica Manager On Job

By WILL THOMAS

Clarence W. Masonheimer, a veteran municipal administrator and consultant will begin work today as Pacifica's new city manager-designate.

Accepting the position early this week, Masonheimer will pick up the reins from Acting Manager James Swayne.

Swayne has been chief city co-ordinator-administrator since the community's first manager resigned over two months ago after several years' service.

Masonheimer and his wife, Eleanor, were introduced to other civic leaders and the public attending last week's City Council session.

The 49-year-old Masonheimer now works for the Sunnyvale firm of Griffenhagen, Kroeger and Associates, whose activities involve numerous municipal surveys throughout the country.

Masonheimer previously was executive assistant to the Sunnyvale city manager.

He was Watsonville's first city manager.

Mayor Harland Minshew had announced Masonheimer's appointment late last Tuesday.

The mayor explained to the council audience that the "selection was not an easy one."

He cited the two months of interviews and trips to the areas where the top four candidates worked.

Minshew noted that the Pacifica council worked closely with two other city managers — Gene Aiello of South San Francisco and Gerard Vergeer of San Bruno — and its own legal advisor, Conrad Reich.

"All of the candidates were equally talented and experienced," Reich said. (Please See Page 3, Col. 3)

N. County Residents On Jury

Several north county residents are among the cross section of nineteen San Mateo County citizens, elected by lot from a panel of thirty persons, as members of the 1967 San Mateo County Grand Jury.

North county citizens named to the panel are:

Frank Monte, 43 Parkside Avenue, Daly City, service station owner.

Dino Tonelli, 91 Windsor Drive, Daly City, pharmacist.

Howard D. Hoops, 210 Sterling Avenue, Pacifica, a director of the American Red Cross.

Mrs. Mayon Icheno, 841 San Bruno Avenue, San Bruno, a housewife.

Norman Lalanne, 179 Crystal View Court, San Bruno, a marine engineering company official.

Mrs. Rena Ringuet, 544 Second Lane, South San Francisco, a housewife.

After being sworn in by Court Clerk John N. Thomas and being briefly informed of their duties by Superior Judge Wayne H. Millington in Redwood City, the jurors held their first organizational meeting.

IMPROMPTU LANDING SITE — Two Cherokee single-engine planes used the Cow Palace's parking lot as a "make-do" landing strip Tuesday. Fighting gusting winds and overcast skies, both planes landed without a scratch on the 2,500-foot strip under the able guidance of ATCO Sierra Company pilots George Rodgers and Jack Ulstad. The planes will be on display during the San Francisco Sports and Boat Show, February 3-12. (Post Photo)

Palace Landing 'Like Trying to Fly Barn Door'

A 20-knot crosswind, sometimes gusting to 35 knots, added to the difficulties of two veteran pilots as they landed their single engine planes in the Cow Palace parking lot Tuesday.

"It felt like I was trying to fly a barn door onto the Cow Palace's lot," Pilot George Rodgers, said after taxiing up to the ground radio car in his shiny new Cherokee "Six" plane.

Following Rodgers' tail onto the bumpy, sloped 2,500-foot-long strip of black asphalt was Jack Ulstad in a Cherokee "180C."

Ulstad just shook his head after landing and muttered, "I can't say as I liked it either."

The planes will be on display during the annual San Francisco Sports and Boat Show, February 3-12, at the Cow Palace in Daly City.

Units of the Daly City fire department, police and executives of Comstock Aviation of Oakland, lined the narrow strip—split down the middle by metal utility poles.

"That strip seems shorter every year," Rodgers said.

The planes had taken off from San Jose municipal airport less than an hour before.

Both pilots are attached to the ATCO Sierra Company of San Jose. And they both made "uneventful" landings last year on the same strip with similar planes.

But this year's unusually bleak, wintry weather added to landing "difficulties," which included banking sharply, over John McClaren Park in San Francisco, holding steady past several rows of power lines, and dropping onto the asphalt lot.

At the end of the upslope is towering San Bruno Mountain and several more rows of high-voltage power lines.

Each pilot "buzzed" the parking lot once, pulling up sharply when wind gusts caught their light planes, gunning their engines and veering to the left to avoid the mountain.

Finally, Rodgers told ground monitor Hampton Kirchmaier, president of Comstock Aviation, "Here I come."

Flying almost sideways most of the time, Rodgers nursed his silver and blue plane over the mountain, the power lines and slammed it down onto the lot at more than 60 miles an hour.

Seconds later he rolled to a stop at the end of the parking lot.

His flying companion circled overhead, turned his nose towards the "field," and much the same as Rodgers had done only minutes before, bounced his smaller plane down and rolled to a stop.

From the lot both planes taxied down Geneva Avenue while police halted traffic and disbelieving motorists turned their heads to get a better look. The smaller plane was next, put on three-caster; carts and "wiggled" through an 18-foot opening. (Please See Page 3, Col. 1)

PACIFICA CITY ENGR. Kenneth Thompson surveys damage which occurred on Pacita Terrace above Eureka Square during heavy rains Monday night. The ten-foot crevice opened after sliding action of the bluff caused a ten-inch water main to break beneath the road. Damage from mud and rock slides was reported in at least two other areas of Pacifica early Tuesday. (Post Photo)

Westborough Tree Topping Work Begun

By DON GRIERSON

Workmen have begun topping trees along the proposed Westborough Expressway route in South San Francisco, and further clearing operations are scheduled to begin before the end of this week, a spokesman for the Rancho Buri Buri Homeowners' Association said Monday.

Irma Stokes Joins Human Resources Commission

Mrs. Irma Stokes was elected Sunday in a Daly City election as a representative of the poor on the County Human Resources Commission.

A total of 31 persons from the city's target area cast ballots in the election, held at the War Memorial Building.

Mrs. Stokes, of 80 Mission Circle, will become temporary chairman of the Community Action Council, and the two defeated candidates for the HRC post, Mrs. Julia Monares and Miss Betsy Blum, will become members of the council by virtue of their candidacy.

Twenty other persons have expressed interest in becoming members of the council, which will hold its first meeting at 3 p.m. Sunday, February 12, in the War Memorial Building. The council will serve as a local source to hear local problems and bring them to the attention of the Human Resources Commission.

Sunday's election was the first one in Daly City to select a representative of the poor to the HRC, although similar elections have been held in other target areas in the county.

Water Line Snaps As Mud Slides

The outside rim of Pacita Terrace, a small hillside road overlooking Oceana Boulevard and the Eureka Square Shopping Center in Pacifica, gave way in heavy rains Monday night and created a mud and rock slide.

Pressure from sliding of the 70-foot bluff which supports the road caused a 10-inch water main to snap, and the deluge from the pipe hastened the process, City Engr. Kenneth Thompson said.

After the water main broke, about 1:30 a.m. Tuesday, a ten-foot crevice opened up in the roadbed.

There appears to be no immediate danger of the bluff sliding any farther, Thompson said, but Oceana Boulevard was closed to all traffic Tuesday "as a precautionary measure."

City crews will begin work immediately to "round off" the bluff, the engineer said.

OVERPASS MONEY

The state will participate with South San Francisco in a 50-50 share basis on construction of a $75,000 pedestrian overpass on Junipero Serra Boulevard, scene of several tragic traffic deaths, it was learned Tuesday.

Association Sec. Mrs. Jack Orner said a spokesman for the San Mateo County Engineer's office has notified Escanyo Drive homeowners crews will begin clearing the right-of-way February 1, approximately three weeks before a hearing on the expressway location is scheduled before the Board of Supervisors.

"It is obvious they don't consider our objections to this concrete monstrosity of any consequence," Mrs. Orner said, "and they are proceeding accordingly."

The homeowners' association, headed by Donald Gamma, has petitioned both the South San Francisco Council and the Board of Supervisors for a "reconsideration" of the expressway route, which will place an elevated highway within 60 feet of some homes and block the residents' view of the South San Francisco Country Club Golf Course.

Mrs. Orner said County Engr. Don S. Wilson told her last week he is "proceeding on schedule" with work on the project.

"They have even had appraisers out to look at some of the property," she said.

City officials have disclaimed any responsibility for the expressway route, stating, "It is up to the county."

"But the city has already paid $50,000 as its share of the cost of engineering plans," Mrs. Orner said. "This payment was made before the plans were even completed."

The homeowners have contended the expressway route was altered without their knowledge, and moved north 100 feet away from the golf course and towards their property.

"The route was altered by the Board of Supervisors upon the recommendation of engineers privately retained by the Callan Realty firm," Mrs. Orner said.

She said the alteration resulted in condemnation of a stretch (Please See Page 3, Col. 7)

The Concert Association plans to hold its membership drive for the 1967-68 season in April. Five concerts by internationally known artists will continue to be presented in the Capuchino High School Auditorium for the nominal sum of $7 for adults and $3.50 for full-time students.

Slump Not Affecting Jeff High District

The current housing construction slump that was blamed for the Jefferson Elementary School District's stoppage of work on its school site near Serramonte will not affect progress of high schools being built in Daly City. This was revealed by Jefferson Union High School District Supt. Edward Morgan last week during a regular session of the Board of Trustees. Morgan said there were some 800 unhouseed high-school age children in the area at present and about 800 homes in the "under construction" category as of one month ago.

The Serramonte High School was planned for some 2,200 children. In order to justify construction of the school, the area must have "at least 1,100 unhouseed youngsters," Morgan said.

If the home construction remains at its present rate of climb, slightly more than 1,100 unhouseed children will be in the area by October, 1967.

"This matter is not considered to be critical at the moment," Morgan explained to the Trustees.

Chamber Growth Cited in S.S.F.

More than 30 new members have been added to the roster of the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce since the organization's new full-time director, Frank Fairbanks, took office January 3.

Chamber Pres. Bill Borba reported on progress in the membership drive and the work of the downtown rejuvenation committee at the organization's first general membership meeting

Thursday night at the New Southern Restaurant. The Chamber now has 156 members, Borba said, "and we intend to double this figure in the very near future."

A number of other projects, including the Colma Creek Flood District, were discussed by Chamber members. The Chamber acquired a full-time director for the first time in 13 years when Fairbanks joined the staff last month.

Six new directors were also elected at the meeting.

Elected to three-year terms were Elmo Hall, Guido Rozzi, Virgil Ringuet, John Buscovich, John Susa and F. D. Minuccia.

Police Nab Suspect At Scene in D.C.

Daly City police arrested a San Francisco man on burglary charges after he was seen running from a television repair shop early this morning.

Edward Day, 28, 522 Hayes Street, was picked up and booked after Officer James J. Barron spotted the suspect running along the roof of the TV Man repair store, 6241 Mission Street dropping to the ground and walking casually up the sidewalk.

As Officer Barron approached him, the suspect allegedly dropped a tire iron and tried to escape, police said.

Investigation disclosed the store had been broken into using a pry tool on the front door. Two rear windows had likewise been pried open.

Police said "something apparently frightened" the alleged burglar after he entered the store and fled without disturbing anything inside.

Pacifica Has Long Wait On Traffic Light

Pacifica will not receive a traffic signal at the intersection of Cabrillo Highway and Rockaway Beach Drive "before 1968 or 1969," the State Division of Highways disclosed this week.

Bernie Lake, director of the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce and one of the chief proponents of the traffic signal, said the highway division notified him this week that a survey on traffic at the intersection has been completed, "but it will probably be two years before the signal is installed."

Lake said he will recommend that the speed limit on Cabrillo Highway be reduced to 35 miles per hour through the Rockaway Beach area at the next city council meeting.

"This is one of the most dangerous crossings in the area," Lake said, "and we should not wait two years to take some sort of action toward remedying the situation."

Kiwanians Stage Big Installation

Kiwanis Club of San Bruno-Millbrae held its installation dinner dance recently at the Hunters Point Officers Club. President Ken Navarre was duly installed in office.

On the program of the meeting held Wednesday at the Blue Peacock, members heard from a representative of an aircraft company who described the coming big jets.

President Navarre gave the annual President's message in which the goals for 1967 were set forth. This year's slogan is "Quality Leadership-Key to the Future." Navarre added that he felt the local club could well pursue other goals such as continued support of youth work like the Scout groups and Pee-Wee League. He also added that the club wishes to increase its membership in order to have enough momentum to perform more community services.

Reverend Flucke gave his first report as interclub chairman. The first interclub meeting was held Thursday, January 19. The next will be Monday February 6 at Bob's on Broadway.

At the Christmas luncheon the club welcomed its newest member, Bob Newell, and presented him with his pin.

Accord On Mt. Bruno Park Asked

Formation of a joint powers agreement to assure preservation of San Bruno Mountain as a park and open space area has been urged of the County Board of Supervisors by the Paradise Valley Group of South San Francisco.

Concerned by the proposal of the Pacific Air Commerce Center to remove some 50 million cubic yards of fill from the mountain, the Group expresses hope that the county, in conjunction with the cities of South San Francisco, Daly City, and Brisbane, can exercise eminent domain proceedings to preserve a good portion of the mountain for open space and regional park use.

The Group asks in a letter to the board that emergency action be taken to seek a joint powers agreement.

More than $1,000 in jewelry and cash was taken from the Victor Dipiero home yesterday, South San Francisco police said.

Police were continuing their investigation to determine how entry to the Palm Avenue home was made.

Enforce Sign Ordinance, Planners Say

South San Francisco planning commissioners recommended that the city council "reaffirm the city's intention to enforce its sign ordinance" last week in order to assure state participation in the landscaping of Junipero Serra and the Bayshore Freeway.

City Planner Daniel Pass said the State Division of Highways has indicated funds "probably will not be provided for the beautification of the Bayshore Freeway or the replacement of plants removed during the widening of Bayshore if intention to enforce the ordinance is not reaffirmed."

"Since landscaping of our freeways is essential to orderly growth of the community and the health and well-being of our citizens, I recommend that the council notify the state of intention to enforce the ordinance. This should lead directly to the landscaping of the city's freeways," Pass said.

He said the division of highways has three planting programs. "The first is merely designed for highway safety, and the second is a program for planting trees in rural areas. The third program, landscaping, is designed to transform a utilitarian slab into a parkway."

Pair Held As Prostitutes

A 5-foot, 11-inch tall San Francisco woman whose body is virtually covered with tattoos and a 40-year-old San Bruno woman were arrested on charges of soliciting for prostitution and prostitution at the Hilton Inn at the San Francisco International Airport Tuesday night as the climax to several weeks investigation by the sheriff's office.

Capt. Eugene Stewart said the two arrests, one at 9:30 and the other at 11:30 p.m., were the first prostitution arrests in the county in more than a year.

Sharon M. Taylor, 23, of San Francisco, the first woman arrested, had tattoos over much of her body, Stewart reported. She gave no occupation. The

Supervisors Plan Expressway Tour

The Board of Supervisors will take a field trip to view the proposed changes that the building of the Westborough Expressway will bring to a South San Francisco neighborhood.

A request for discussion of the project with property owners received immediate action by the board, who set it for 11:15 a.m., at their regular meeting Tuesday, February 21.

Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald said yesterday, that it might be good future policy to hold public hearings on the building of major County roads, even though such hearings are not currently required.

"The case of Westborough has indicated that some problems have developed that could have been investigated and considered at a public hearing," Fitzgerald said.

The Westborough Boulevard Expressway is a $2 million joint City-County road project, between Junipero Serra Boulevard and Mission Road in a county-wide program with 10 cities to construct a co-ordinated network of routes within the county. The county has agreed to allocate all of its gas tax funds to this program, while the cities have agreed to accumulate 75 per cent of their funds for this purpose.

The county has already expended some $600,000 in the Westborough project which has included the difficult problem of partially relocating a golf course.

Camper Burned As As Debris Ignites

Fire last week destroyed a 1966 Volkswagen camper, and completely charred a garage and caused other structural damage when a bag of fireplace debris apparently burst into flame.

Menhard Schultz of 683 Skyline Drive in Daly City had cleaned out the fireplace, put the debris in a paper bag and set it in front of his fully-equipped camper.

Shortly after 4 p.m., hot coals caught the sack afire. It spread to the vehicle, then to the garage.

Schultz discovered the blaze and called firemen. Neighbors pulled two nearby alarm boxes. It was not hard for firemen, or the curious, to find the scene. A pall of thick, black smoke towered into the sky as flames completely engulfed the garage and licked out through the open garage door.

Daly City Battalion Chief Wayne Alexander said firemen were able to "knock down" the blaze before it raged into living areas of the structure.

The hot fire got into the rafters, but was extinguished before it broke through the roof above or the ceilings below.

Alexander said there was an estimated $1,000 damage to living room furnishings because of smoke and water.

Two small hot spots had burned through the garage wall into the living room, but no flame actually got beyond that point.

Alexander described the vehicle as a "total loss," estimating structural damage at $3,000. The over-all loss is expected to be near $10,000.

only a building permit and business license.

Use permits are approved first by the Planning Commission and next by the city council. The city manager and staff have authority to approve building permits.

The decision to issue a building permit, instead of a use permit, to the new car wash was determined on the basis of former City Atty. Hupf's opinion regarding this type of business on C-1 zoned property.

Small businesses such as beauty salons, health centers, restaurants (excepting drive-ins) and "those similar to, but not more objectionable than..." may be opened on C-1 zoned property.

Hunter wants the courts to decide if Hupf's opinion concerning the Hillside Boulevard car wash is the proper interpretation of the city zoning ordinance.

The complaint lists three main points in its action: 1) What is meant in the zoning ordinance by a "car wash"; 2) the fact that Hupf determined a use permit was not required by the Hillside Boulevard car wash an unauthorized determination; and 3) a writ of review that a building permit was issued instead of a use permit.

"If this (Hupf's) ruling is allowed to remain on the books, everyone can open a car wash practically anywhere in Daly City on C-1 zoned lots. There are very few C-2 areas left in the city and they are expensive," Hunter pointed out.

When the new car wash applied for their business license, the city council tacked several stipulations onto it — including having an adult attendant continuously on the premises during operating hours — from 6 a.m. to 11 p.m. daily.

The proposed ordinance amendment is similar to those stipulations attached to the new car wash's business license.

Hearing on the lawsuit is scheduled for February 7 in Redwood City.

Marijuana Arrests At Bruno Jail

There has been a "steady but small trickle" of marijuana into the San Francisco County Jail at San Bruno over the past several months but at least one source of supply was cut off Sunday with the arrest of three persons.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Charles Cunningham said jail authorities frequently find "small packages of marijuana in the course of shaking down the area."

He said as many as a dozen "joints" are occasionally found in a "stache" within the jail, "but it is not a major problem, because only a very inconspicuous amount can be smuggled in by a visitor."

Two young San Francisco men, Michael Gaub, 20, and Michael Delosa, 19, were arrested Sunday when three marijuana cigarettes were found in their car at the jail parking lot.

An inmate, Donald McLemore, 20, serving a one-year sentence for money order fraud, was also charged with possession of drugs on the grounds of a public institution after authorities discovered six marijuana cigarettes in a package in his possession.

Barnes Gets Micronesia Peace Post

Kurt Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Barnes of San Bruno, is one of 100 Peace Corps Volunteers recently assigned to the Pacific islands of Micronesia. The group, which was scheduled to depart on January 28, consists of primary and second English teachers, radio technicians, secretaries and lawyers. They will be assigned to 80 of the 97 inhabited island groups which the U.S. administers under a United Nations trusteeship agreement.

The volunteers recently completed 11 weeks of training with Westinghouse Corp. at Miami, Fla., where they studied one of Micronesia's vernacular languages, Micronesian and American history and language, world affairs, educational methods and community development techniques.

enced," Minshew pointed out. However, Masonheimer's added experience with the private consulting firm—and his family—weighed heavily in his favor, Minshew said.

The councilmen and the others conducting the interviews sifted through the personal and professional backgrounds of 25 persons, narrowing the field first to 11, then to four.

Mayor Minshew said Ordinance No. 12, which set up the city manager form of government, would remain unchanged. Several items considered highly important by Pacifica's leaders have been systematically set aside in recent weeks while the interviews continued.

Even last week one item—a complex report dealing with fire department overtime and general municipal expenses — was set aside until Masonheimer got on the job.

The city council, the mayor said, is giving the new manager its "endorsement or full support."

At the same time, Minshew praised the "efforts and energy given the City of Pacifica" by Swayne.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

By Donald C. Walte

DON'T OVER-CROWD YOUR ROOMS

Many years ago a famous decorator said "The right way to furnish any room is with the least number of pieces of furniture and not with the most." That principle still applies today.

Too many rooms in too many homes look like displays in furniture stores — terribly over-crowded.

Many people seem to have a fear of leaving any open floor or wall spaces in their rooms. But, actually, there is nothing worse than the "cluttered" look.

Sufficient spacing is an important factor in decorating. It is often the difference between "decorating" and "furnishing."

Enough space between the different pieces of furniture and wall decoration in any room will allow the individual items to "stand on their own feet" and display their own personality.

We are always ready to give you decorating advice and help with no obligation. Come on in and talk over your decorating problems with us. We welcome the opportunity to visit with you.

Our decorators, here at Sterling Furniture in Westlake Shopping Center, are at your service no matter what your decorating problem may be. We are open Wednesday and Friday evenings 'til 9 p.m. for your shopping convenience. PL 6-7500 Copyright

Daly City's Youth Week Feb. 14-20

Daly City Mayor Bernard J. Lycett has proclaimed the annual "Youth in Government Week" for February 14-20, and announced the names of students selected by the city's two high schools to take over the reins of city government.

Jefferson students John Moore and Charles Gerughty, with Richard Posto, Thomas Torlakson and Michele Bigon of Westmoor High, will lead the take-over as city councilmen.

Filling the elected positions of city clerk and treasurer are Janet Johnson of Jeff and Westmoor's Muriel Friedman. Preparing legislation and advising the new officials on legal matters will be city attorney, Don Zimmerman of Westmoor.

City Manager Joe Torres, Jefferson, will have for his administrative staff Westmoor students Cheryl Thompson as recreation director, Kathleen McGenilly as police chief, Richard Thul as city engineer and Jefferson students Daryl Rideau as librarian, Ron Caserza as of property owned by Callan on the west side of Junipero Serra. "County officials have said the expressway plans were open for public inspection during this period, but this is simply not true," she said. "I know personally of at least a half dozen persons who asked to see the plans and were told they were not available."

Gamma said the association will ask that a bill requiring fire chief, and Sue Wong as finance director.

The Youth in Government program is sponsored jointly by the city and the high schools to provide a meaningful learning experience in local government.

counties to hold public hearings on expressway routes be introduced into the State Legislature.

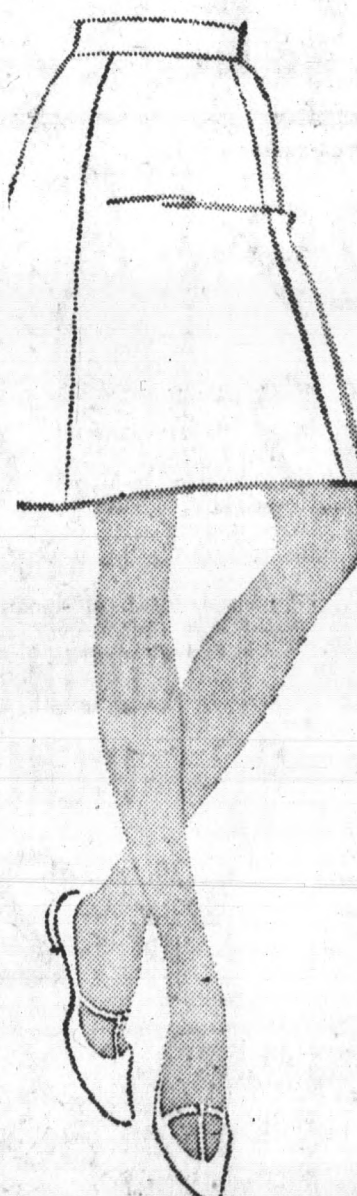

"We have communicated with Assemblyman Leo Ryan's office in this matter, and though it would be too late to help Escan-yo Drive residents, we feel such a bill should be introduced in the interest of simple justice," the association president said.

Public hearings on state highway routes are required by law, but counties need not hold such hearings under present regulations.

A hearing on the expressway route, which runs between Junipero Serra Boulevard and Mission Road, will be held at 11:15 a.m. February 21 in the county supervisors' chambers at Redwood City.

The "real fun," as Rodgers called it, began as the group teamed up to "wiggle" the bigger plane through the limited opening. It has a 34-foot wingspan and resisted first attempts to ease it through the gate.

However, last year's experience paid off and with a series of hollered orders and strained moans, the Cherokee was pushed into the compound without a scratch.

Westmoor Upsets Mighty Warriors

For the first time in two years, the South San Francisco High School basketball team is not at the top of the North Peninsula League standings.

Westmoor High School, at the start of the season rated as one of the weakest teams in the league, won the battle and took a long step towards winning the war last week when the Rams knocked over the Warrior five, 49-36, in a reverse strategy game.

South San Francisco, which has not lost a game to league opponent in the past 20 starts, could never break through the zone defense of the determined crew of Tony Giammona.

The Rams, now 4-0, were expected to slow down the deadly

Warrior threat of the fast break and the press by working the ball as long as needed for a good shot. As it turned out, the Warriors slowed the ball game down while the Rams brought the battle right to the defending NPL champs.

Everyone took a hero's role for the Rams. Gary Soules, the 6-0 pivotman, took over the league's scoring leadership as he pumped through 18 points while holding South City's high-scoring forward Ron Beall to a mere two points.

Narvis Thompson, the jumping-jack guard, stole the ball twice from the frustrated Warriors in the final two minutes and one of the steals led to Grady Proctor's winning fade-away baseline jumper which gave the Rams a 47-45 lead with just 1:32 remaining.

A free throw by the Warriors' Alex Smith closed the gap to one at 47-46, but it was to be the last time the Warriors would score. Attempting to take the ball away on the press, South City's Ron Mazzonini fouled Joe Anible who sank one of his two tries.

South City had the ball with 1:13 left on the clock, but a forced jumper by Beall went short and when he tried to rebound, he fouled John Roccaforte who sank the final point with just four seconds left.

"The boys really wanted to win this after we did so bad against South City in the NPL tournament," Giammona said, grinning. "They all played a good game and I'm proud of them all."

"Well, finally the pressure is off us for a little while," was all disappointed Warrior Coach Bill Purcell could say. "We've been on top a long time so let the other teams shoot for the Rams for a while."

The Warriors tried just about everything to get an offense going. They even tried a spread formation of three men across the midcourt line to force Westmoor out of its tight zone defense. This variation, however, lost the Warriors six points at the start of the second half and after that they lost their momentum.

Meanwhile, cross-town rival El Camino High School was dropping its fourth straight NPL contest, and its seventh by four points or less, when the Colts were edged by Jefferson High School, 54-53.

"My ulcers have ulcers," he moaned losing Coach Warren Hagberg. "Pass the milk. These kids play hard all season and they don't have much to show for it. Things have got to start evening up."

Comeback Too Late

Cap Mustangs Fall To Hillsdale High

By RON REID
Post Sports Writer

They learned their rebound lessons with only "B-Minus" proficiency, but the Hillsdale High School Knights stand today at the head of the Mid-Peninsula League basketball class.

Hillsdale took over sole possession of first place in the MPL standings last night with a heart-busting, 50-49 victory over the determined Capuchino Mustangs, who suffered their first league loss despite a last-quarter comeback try of heroic magnitude.

"We felt we had to break even or win the battle of the boards to win the game," an emotion-drained Homer Zugelder said afterward of his Knights' plans for the contest.

But Hillsdale only came close to matching the Mustangs on the boards, being beaten by nine rebounds in spite of a great individual effort by Knight center Mark Wilson.

Ultimately, however, the name of the game is shooting, and that's where the Knights excelled in chalking up their sixteenth consecutive league victory. Capuchino made good on less than 38 per cent of its shots from the field, an accuracy mark which Hillsdale exceeded to the Mustangs' sorrow.

In winning their fourth straight MPL contest of the current season without defeat, the Knights championed the cause of cautious conservatism — with nearly the same sad results as Barry Goldwater.

Leading by 12 full points with 5:45 left in the final quarter, the Knights abandoned an aggressive, head-to-head offense in favor of a delayed stall at the midway point of the period.

That tactic did nothing quite so much as take the edge off the Knights' impressive game while enabling the Mustangs to narrow the score in frightening chunks.

Jim Kauffman, who nearly proved to be the Knights' executioner, combined with Roger Carmine and Stan DeLuca to close the gap to one point with 25 seconds left.

After Hillsdale missed a free throw at 0:09, Cap took a time out with seven seconds remaining and the score 50-49.

The Mustangs then inbounded the ball — only to the forecourt — and called another time out, to irately discover that three seconds had been taken up, on the clock by the play. Insults circled around the head of timekeeper Tom Reynolds as bedlam reigned in the packed Hillsdale gym.

Cap inbounded the ball to DeLuca, who took a 40-foot set shot that rammed off the board wide, and the follow-up by Mike Miller was an instant late.

"I think we started our delay too early," Zugelder said later. "It's one of those decisions that you have to make and you don't know whether you're right or not until the game is over. If you lose by a point, you're awake nights over it for a month."

In fairness to the Knights, and taking nothing away from Cap's comeback, let it be said that Hillsdale was the team that deserved to win.

The Knights took the attack to the Mustangs through the first three quarters, trailing only by a single point at one brief juncture, en route to a half-time lead of 25-22 and a three-quarter advantage of 39-33.

Sophomore Rick Wilkinson, unsung Eric Nelson and Wilson led the Knights' offensive attack which reached its best margin at 45-33 early in the final period before Cap's heroics began. All three ended up in double figures, with Wilson leading Hillsdale's scoring with 14 points while his chums chipped in 10 each.

Nelson, whom Zugelder said, "should be in the Hall of Fame," was probably the biggest surprise for Cap. The heady forward drove down the side for layups on three plays which found the Mustangs' defense unprepared.

High game honors went to Kauffman, who bagged 18 points in one of the classiest individual efforts of the season. Carmine, who got off to a slow start, came through with 12 for the Cap cause.

Though pleased with the victory, Zugelder said, "Oddly enough, it doesn't mean a thing because of the league's balance. We meet San Mateo Wednesday and it could all be tied up after that one."

Cap's gentlemanly Jimmy Johnson, disappointed in his team's anemic shooting mark, said that the outcome could be reversed when the teams meet again.

"We've got a chance, if we play a little better in both halves," he said. Cap meets Crestmoor Wednesday.

Incidentally, the Mustangs got no raw deal from timekeeper Reynolds — despite appearances to the contrary — but they had legitimate cause for complaint over the unorthodox performance of Hillsdale's Bush-league public address announcer.

At the urging of a non-objective "reporter," he announced the clock time at 10-second intervals as Hillsdale worked the ball in for one last shot at the end of the first half.

Referee John Nece properly admonished the lad before the second half started.

Everyone learned something at Hillsdale last night.

Crosby's Weather

Le Pacini

IF BING CROSBY seemed unperturbed about the weather during his tournament, that's because he really was. It was no act.

When we interviewed Crosby a few weeks prior to the tournament and asked the inevitable question about the weather, he seemed almost surprised that we should bring the subject up, and was more intent on talking about his "baby," Spyglass Hill.

Crosby really doesn't mind talking about the weather, but on the other hand, he doesn't want to do anything about it. He looks on it as a part of the game, a challenge, one of the unique characteristics of his tournament. And he doesn't give a damn what people think about it.

He does have a point, not only because it's "his" tournament, not only because it would still attract galleries and draw the world's top personalities and-or golfers if it were played on Skyline Boulevard during the foggy season, but because weather on the Monterey Peninsula during the third week of January has drawn a traditionally but relatively undesired bad press for years.

Actually, before this year, there had been only three days of postponement in the tournament history: the first tournament in 1937 (and THAT was near Los Angeles), once in '52, and in 1962, the year it snowed on the Monterey Peninsula for the first time in 30 years. It rains much more on the Peninsula in November and December, and nearly as much in March and April.

Annual rumors that the tournament will be held in such months as October, and even that the site will be shifted, never come from Crosby himself, who thinks it fits in perfectly with the tour as it now stands.

"SURE, the pros moan about the weather now and again," said Crosby, "but everybody does, it's the thing to do. But they know it's part of the game. They're good sports about it. I think that most of the pros look forward to the tournament every year, weather or not. They have a wonderful time."

As we said, Crosby would much rather talk about Spyglass, which he felt before the tournament might lead to some astronomical scores by even the big names, a theory which never quite materialized, especially among the Big Three of Nicklaus, Palmer and Casper.

Crosby does not, however, feel the course is unfair — especially after it "matures" — or that it will detract from the nostalgia of the famous traditional three-course Crosby Tournaments (Pebble, Cypress, and the Monterey Peninsula course, which was replaced this year by Spyglass). Rather, he feels that Spyglass will add to the Crosby Tournament legend, that "It's a magnificent course," one of the best ever designed by Robert Trent Jones, that, "It's a step forward, because we're getting the use of what I think will become one of the most famous courses in the world."

NOW, don't take what we're going to print wrong. We don't want letters swamping the office telling us how great Lew Alcindor is, because we admit it — or at least that he's close to greatness. And we know that there are always extenuating circumstances in cold statistics. But we think you should realize that there ARE other spectacular basketball players in the country.

For instance, the most recently released NCAA university division statistics show that Alcindor is only second in the country in scoring average. He has a 29.87 as against 30 for Walker of Providence, and SIX men have scored more total points than Alcindor.

Lew is only sixth in the country in rebound average (17.5), seventh in total rebounds. Keith Swagerty of UOP, averaging 18.6, stands fourth in the nation in average, second in total.

In the college division, seven men are averaging more points per game than Alcindor, and Lew wouldn't even make the top 10 in rebounds, average or total.

But relax, Alcindor fans. The big guy does lead in something — field goal average, 71.8, and NOBODY can touch him there.

GLAD as we were to see our favorite pro football player, Floyd Peters (we once won a college writing award with a story we did on Peters' being the first S.F. Stater ever to make the East-West Game) be named Most Valuable defensive player in the Pro Bowl Game, we were struck, as always, by the incongruity of naming such winners before a game is over.

Especially flagrant is the naming of Most Valuable Offensive players with several minutes still remaining, because offense can shift so explosively. True, at the time, Gayle Sayers was chosen, the West was two touchdowns out of it, but supposing Bart Starr had suddenly gotten hot and thrown two or even three quick TD pitches? How would the Sayers pick then have looked?

Of course, the early committal is made for the benefit of television, which can then scoop the morning papers as it didn't do in the early days of TV. But television supervision of sporting events (such as dictating commercial time outs and damaging team momentum) — sponsors or not — must be regulated soon. If it isn't, TV will kill off the very essence of what makes people rather watch sports than studio rehearsed shows... spontaneity.

Free Throw Tournament

El Camino Booster Club has announced it will sponsor a basketball free throw tournament February 1, 2 and 3. The South San Francisco tournament is open to all adults, junior high and high school students. Qualifying rounds will be held at Southwood, Parkway, Alta Loma, El Camino and South San Francisco high schools February 1, 2 and 3 from 3 to 5 p.m. To qualify each entry must make six out of 10 baskets. Those making six will go on to the semi-finals. Entries may enter as many times as they wish, however each time a new entry blank must be filled out. Each entry blank must be accompanied by a 50-cent fee for a junior high or high school student and a $1 fee for an adult.

Semi-finals will be at the El Camino High School gym February 18 from 1 to 4 p.m. The two highest scores out of 25 baskets in each division will go on to the finals. Finals will be held at El Camino February 24 during the half-time of the S.S.F.-E.C. basketball game. Trophies will be awarded the winners. All adults are to qualify on Saturday, February 4, at the El Camino gym between 1 and 4 p.m. There will be division awards for junior high, high school, adult and over-all city champions. Coaches and supervisors are to send written names of the qualifiers to El Camino High before February 14. Players on any interscholastic basketball team are ineligible.

Westlake Bowl

By JAMES GREALISH

One 300 game in a lifetime is more than satisfactory for the average bowler but not to Westlake Bowler Bob Grout. After shooting a 300 game in the 885 Scratch League November 21, he came back Sunday night to register another perfect game, this time in the Northern California Team Handicap Tournament.

Bowling with the San Jose Fish team, he had games of 300-205-279 for an all-time Westlake High series of 784. His excellent bowling provided an incentive to his teammates, two of whom topped the 700 mark.

John Brodie had 707 on games of 257-213-237 while Dave Egigian shot games of 254-221-228 for 703. Other team members were Bob Hood with 205-214-234 for 653 and Jim Leatherberry with 200 and 553. There was no question of the team moving into first place in the current Men's Team Handicap Tournament.

Webb's Waifs took over first place in the Ladies' Invitational League with a team game of 773 and a new high team series of 2156. Jane Valenzano led the ladies with a 198 game and 570 series.

Roger Noll joined the Westlake 700 Club Monday night as he led the Lakeside Mixed Fives with 722 series on games of 268-257-197. Mildred Main led the ladies with a 238 game and 583 series.

Barbara Steinberg rolled a 548 series to earn a "100 pins over average" patch including a 188 perfect game.

In the opening night of the Western Envelope League, Rich Hendricks rolled a 644 series to lead the bowlers as he shot games of 224-202-218. Joe Harvey brought the house down when he converted the "big four," picking up the 4-6-7-10 split.

Georgia Freyslaben led the ladies in the Southgate Mixed Fives with a 188 game and 496 series as Ed Cafferty topped the men with 210 and 592. Rich Andreini and Larry Backett were the Telco bowlers of the week, Rich with 235-624 and Larry with a 215 game and 609 series. Elaine Reyman with 180-520 and Angelo Nieve with 245-613 were high for the week in the Pfizer and Friends League.

Three new leagues are being organized to start soon and finish before the summer season. Applications are available at the desk for a Mixed League Tuesdays at 6:15 p.m., a Men's 775 Handicap League Wednesdays at 6:15 p.m., and a Ladies' Beginner Handicap League on Wednesdays at 9:30 a.m.

Canco League bowler of the week was Joe Bruno with 641 on games of 211-195 and 225. A big 247 game was posted by Ken Hauser.

In the Inter-Parish League, George Boehle hit a 238 game while Mike Valenzano posted a 583 series with a high game of 205. The Mahoney family took both top spots in the Saturday Mixed Singles, Bernice with 168-474 and Bob with 199 game and 514 series. Esther Pavloff took home 1800 Blue Chip Stamps to lead the winners in the Monday afternoon Blue Chip Bonanza.

More and more Blue Chip bowlers are coming to Westlake on Saturdays at 7 P.M. and Sundays at 8:30 P.M. to take advantage of the new schedule.

Cap Athlete Wins Award

Capuchino High School athlete Jim Kauffman, a three-sport letterman, will receive the St. Veronica's Men's Club "Athlete of the Year" Award next Monday at the club's annual installation banquet.

Jim, a 17-year-old All-M.P.L. defensive player and co-holder of the "Back of the Year" award, has also maintained an outstanding 3.6 grade average.

He was an all-league selection in basketball as a junior last year, and was named to the all-tournament team at the recent Sunnyvale Invitational.

Jim is one of two boys named from San Mateo County to the Northern California Hall of Fame for scholar-athletes.

Presenting the award in behalf of club members will be University of California head coach Willsey head.

The banquet begins at 7 p.m. in the Capuchino High School cafeteria.

TED TESHARA, athletic director for the St. Veronica's Men's Club, and Capuchino High School athlete Jim Kauffman look over the trophy which will be presented to Jim Monday night. The club presents the "outstanding athlete" trophy to an area high school athlete each year.

NORTH COUNTY EDITION

north county COMMENT

Junipero Freeway Needed in County

San Mateo needs the use of the new Junipero Serra Freeway as quickly as possible for two good reasons. One of them is that north-south traffic pressure in the county is getting intolerable. The other is that the fate of a new state college for the county is linked to a quick decision on the disputed part of the routing realignment between Belmont and Woodside. The best of the proposed college sites is in this area.

San Francisco, supported by the San Mateo County supervisors, contends that the realignment pushed by the state highway engineers is too close to the Crystal Springs Lake reservoirs and carries with it danger of contamination of public water supplies.

The San Francisco Water Department owns and controls much of the proposed low-level routing, but has suggested a higher "ridge" routing which also involves water department lands; and a considerable portion of the projected college site, together with site access, is on the water department holdings.

Adding still more strength to the position now jointly held by San Francisco and San Mateo counties is the fact that the acceptable "ridge" routing is far better from a scenic standpoint.

The State Engineers' main point is that the higher level routing would be more costly to construct.

But a longer stalemate in this dispute will be even more costly. It can lose this county the state college it has fought to obtain for many years — and it could cost lives in addition to money because of overcrowded traffic conditions on the existing north-south arterials.

The San Francisco Public Utilities Commission has offered the state very worthwhile concessions to change to the "ridge" route and has promised aid to this county with respect to the college site. The official position of San Mateo County is now committed to the greater desirability of the "ridge" route.

In this three-party dispute the two parties most concerned, and with the most at stake, are in agreement. It is time for the State Highway Division, and its new commissioners, to re-examine its position.

Let's get a three-party agreement and let's get on with the job.

Tiny Alice — Too Much

Barbara Bladen

"TINY ALICE" AS PRESENTED BY The American Conservatory Theater this week is almost too much to take. Even having seen it twice before, once in New York and again this summer at Stanford when we first discovered what theater was all about through the brilliance of A.C.T., we're no less shaken by its theatricality and its emotional excesses.

Edward Albee's frenetic assault upon a world already riddled with hypocrisy is devastatingly powerful as a dramatic vehicle. There is a strong feeling that the play is a big "put-on" and too vague in its implications to be anything but an experiment by which any company, any director and any actor (to say nothing of a dumbfounded audience) can attach their own personal symbolism.

The only thing Tiny Alice about Alice, whom we are led to believe is the world's richest mythical harlot is Albee's verbal couplets, in which mere dialogue seems meaningless and only Director William Ball's stage symbols appear to save what might otherwise prove to be an empty mirror where we search out substance.

Albee's characters tend to be so many blank inquiring faces, peering, posturing, bejeweled and beguiling but signifying nothing. Nothing that is to say, except Albee's love of rhetoric: trenchant, ascerbic, overblown rhetoric.

FOR NEARLY THREE HOURS we are exposed to a dimensionless seduction of faith; wherein the church is made out to be a money-hungry, grasping, moralistic lending agency. The currency in this case of Albee versus the world would appear to be the victim, Julian. Or are we all victims?

Yet Albee's attack seems mainly concentrated on our universal polarities such as good versus evil, perversion versus purity, or again, is it the other way around? Not in Tiny Alice!

It appears the playwright's intent is to focus the reverse on the question itself, that if mother church is a money-lender, what chance then has lay brother Julian, who is said to be a former mental patient no reformed, rededicated and retreated to ponder and build anew his once lost faith.

Brother Julian, re-created by Paul Shenar in convincing terms, is the sacrificial lamb turned human host. We find Albee tilting at the minds' pinwheel, alternately suffering out the final macabre question: how many substitutions can there be in a man's quest for the real experience?

Does man's search for his mentor lead to ultimate confusion and final disenchantment? Albee suggests to us that God has many faces and yet the question is: are there enough mirrors to go around?

DIRECTOR BALL HAS ADDED DIALOGUE and clarified the meaning of many scenes that were ambiguous pitfalls in the original production. He's cast Michael O'Sullivan as the creeping, crawling, soul-sick Cardinal and in so doing, imposed a deeper more sadistic perversion to the final sell-out. There is, perhaps, too much mugging and puppet-like control over the lawyer, done with impeccable insidiousness by Ray Reinhardt and O'Sullivan, but it levels off once the initial festers are exposed.

Blue Bird Suzanne Graubart of Daly City (left) is joined by Allison Byrd to remind area residents that the annual Campfire Girl candy sale will get underway today.

Daly City's Mayor Lycett Declares 'History Month'

Daly City mayor Bernard "Eud" Lycett proclaimed the month of February as American History Month in the city.

The proclamation, issued this week, read:

WHEREAS, February has been officially designated as American History Month by Act of the United States Congress—the final version of the bill passed the House on October 20, passed the Senate on October 21, and was signed into law by the President on November 5;

WHEREAS, The Honorable Ronald Reagan, Governor of the State of California, has issued a Proclamation declaring the month of February, 1967, is to be celebrated as American History Month in our State;

WHEREAS, All organizations of whatever kind, and public, parochial and private schools, have been asked to emphasize the study of American History during this celebration month which contains the birth dates of the First and the Sixteenth Presidents of the United States—GEORGE WASHINGTON and ABRAHAM LINCOLN;

WHEREAS, The National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, has sponsored American History Month in February since 1955.

NOW, THEREFORE, I do hereby proclaim the month of February within our city of Daly City to stress the vitality and freedom we enjoy as citizens of the United States of America.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I do not agree with the approval of a cocktail lounge at Skyline Plaza, our neighborhood shopping area.

We do need a good restaurant with versatile food, other than short orders and donuts.

Drinking drivers are detrimental to shoppers and their children. The cocktail lounge patrons also will be using parking space needed by shoppers, employers and their employees; also doctors, nurses, office workers and patients in the medical building, then the bank workers and the depositors. There are others I could enumerate, but you get the picture.

I am not a teetotaler, but there are too many cocktail lounges now, and we do not need them practically at our doorsteps. I, for one, did not move to the suburbs to be surrounded by cocktail lounges.

'S.F., Not D.C. Dump Polluting'

Frank LaPierre

DALY CITY MAYOR Bernard (Bud) Lycett maintains if anyone is polluting the coastline it's San Francisco and not the city's Mussel Rock garbage dump. Our northern neighbor's antiquated storm drain system is responsible for the messy shoreline after every storm. The Mayor claims.

Previous troubles surrounding the D.C. dump have been solved and "as long as the city properly supervises its operation" everything will stay where it was dumped, City Manager Edward Frank adds.

"Proper supervision" includes seeing that rain water from above flows past the dump without dragging garbage out to sea, plus the maintenance of a boulder seawall fronting the lower-level (old) dump site to keep heavy seas out.

AND SPEAKING of sites ... although Jeff Elementary School District has put off construction of the "Pop" Savage School near Serramonte they still are trying for another site west of Skyline Boulevard.

Site acquisition is determined by a five-year projection while construction is based on a three-year population growth figure. ... Down in the South San Francisco Unified School District's section of Serramonte—come August 1967—a new elementary school will open its doors. That district's trustees have adopted a plan for three (two more) elementary and one junior high school in the area based on the same formulae.

D.C. LIONS flare up with a great idea! Highway trouble flares have been distributed to every member of the Daly City-Colma club for use whenever they encounter an accident on the road—hopefully someone else and not themselves. Each flare wrapper reads "Compliments of the D.C.-Colma Lions Club."

UNSUNG HEROES are those fellows in slickers who slosh around the city's streets during the height of a rain storm unplugging street drains and cleaning up landslides. Give me an easy chair, a fireplace and TV tube on those wet nights.

AFTER 20 YEARS with the D.C. department Police Officer Art G. Linhares will let the younger fellows take over. He retires today.

SAVE OUR SINGERS (SOS) Anne Peters and other members of the Daly City Community Chorus chanted this week. The call went out to all aspiring tenors to report to Anne at the Westmoor Park Clubhouse Thursday at 8 p.m. With only two tenors presently with the group — and both of them out of the city for the time being — Anne must sing tenor during the sessions. (This does not necessarily mean that men fill in during the soprano's absence, she said.)

WOULD YOU BELIEVE $30,000 (not $46,000 as earlier reported) for landscaping and an irrigation system around the new civic center. Breakdown is: $20,000 landscaping and $10,000 for irrigation material.

LOCAL SCHOOL FOLKS are beginning to act up over Governor Reagan's proposal for budget cuts and tuition fees at state colleges.

Jeff Elementary Superintendent Frank Greenwood voiced his opposition to the tuition "no matter how small," because it would "only shift the monetary responsibilities over the local residents" and away from the State.

This would result in "really needy students" attending the first two years at junior colleges (thus, necessitating an expansion of these facilities). While this would indeed shift a burden off the State's shoulders, it would place it squarely on local counties, responsible for running the junior colleges, local educators point out. "Better to cut down the graduating time from four to three-and-a-quarter years," it was suggested.

Better Business

'Vanity Press' Still at Work

Lorene Beasley

DESPITE THE many warnings and exposes throughout the years by the Federal Trade Commission, the Post Office Fraud Division, and the Better Business Bureaus, the "vanity press" continues to prey upon the hopes and dreams of would-be authors and songwriters.

The "vanity press," labeled "Subsidy Publishing" by the Federal Trade Commission, flatters gullible amateur writers with great promises of sales and royalties, often inducing them to sink their entire savings in a self-subsidized adventure.

Many hopeful amateur writers who entered into contractual agreements with such publishers learned that their books had not been reviewed by noted critics, columnists or other reviewing media except isolated cases.

THEY also learned that such publisher's advertising, publicity and sales promotion campaigns do not assure the success of the sales and distribution of the books it publishes.

Such sales success, if any, is generally accounted for by the efforts of the individual authors.

The Post Office Fraud Division urges: DO NOT send money to anyone, anywhere before checking into the reputation, bona fide and honesty of the publisher with whom you plan to enter into a contractual agreement.

Books and songs are printed and marketed by the "vanity press" for a fee. An estimated $40,000 was obtained from more than 700 victims of a purported songwriters' club.

The "song shark" offered to publish club members' musical works, alleging that recordings would be made and royalties paid.

SUCH services were never furnished. The professional agent sees that the amateur songwriters music is presented in an acceptable form. The song shark indicates that not only will the music be published but that royalties can be expected.

One fraudulent schemer collected nearly $453,000 in fees from thousands of hopeful song and book writers.

His father before him had collected $1,000,000 in similar fees before the Mail Fraud Division got his prison sentence lined up for him.

The Book Shelf

Material in Book Gotten by Hoax

Samuel Chandler

Remember SINA, the Society for Indecency of Naked Animals, with the motto, "Decency Today Means Morality Tomorrow?" Upon the Jack Parr Show, the Today Show with Dave Garroway, the Art Linkletter Show and the Johnny Carson Show, its president, G. Clifford Prout, Jr., spoke of putting panties on pets, slips on cows and shorts on horses.

It was nothing but a hoax invented for a short story by a writer named Alan Abel. G. Clifford Prout, Jr. was an actor who went along for the gags.

But the women who acted upon a word or two from Abel and actually froned an auxiliary known as Mothers for Morality and Decency were not actors. Neither was the Internal Revenue official who granted the society a tax exemption. Neither were the thousands of people who wanted to join the Society and the thousands who wrote indignant letters, nor those who wanted instructions on how to change a diaper on a horse or a dog.

THE IDEA came to Abel as he watched the people in a number of cars that were stopped by a cow and bull who were carrying on a torrid love affair in the middle of a highway in Texas. Before the hoax reached its climax, Abel, an artist and an actor, named Buck, were forced to maintain an office on Park Avenue in New York City.

The climax came in San Francisco when "The Chronicle" demanded pictures of the SINA people clothing the animals in the Fleischacker Zoo.

There followed one of the funniest incidents in modern journalism. The Chronicle ran the story in three installments under a banner reading "Exclusive San Francisco center of war on naked animals."

In response the people of San Francisco sent enough letters to fill many pages. While most Bay Area people were indignant, some were sympathetic. None guessed that it was a joke.

ABEL'S audacity led him to pranks that made his head swirl. He even presented Life magazine with an Achievement Award from SINA. Finally, however, Time Magazine and Newsweek went to work on SINA. Soon headlines proclaiming it a joke were filling the newspapers of the whole country. Troubles with the U.S.

Post Office Department, and the Telephone Companies followed. Then Abel called a strike against the telephone and to his amazement and amusement it was quite successful.

Abel achieved great fame as a creative writer and his actor friends became stars. The whole story may be read in Alan Abel's "The Great American Hoax."

In serious reflection the preface to the book, by David A. Lyle, contains these somber words.

"IF SINA, operating with limited funds from a shoebox headquarters, could so absorb the public interest, what might a well-financed highly organized movement with less harmless aims achieve?"

"I DON'T know, but I don't want to find out. And in the meantime I'm playing it safe by laughing at every absurd thing that I read in the newspapers."

"The Great American Hoax" will be indexed in most libraries under "Impostors and imposture." There the reader will find the titles of books that present a rather frightening picture of the naivete of the American people.

SPORTS

Westmoor, Jeff Clash Tomorrow

With the North Peninsula Basketball League flag still up for grabs, both Westmoor and Jefferson High will be putting forth the supreme effort tomorrow night when they clash on the Westmoor court.

Westmoor was favored to overcome Oceana on Tuesday afternoon after dropping a close one to Terra Nova last Friday.

The Rams stopped league-leading South San Francisco High last week, 49-46, but fell to the Terra Nova Tigers in a 42-41 "heartstopper" Friday night.

From the first quarter tip-off to the final buzzer, the Friday tilt was a close one, with the Rams leading much of the time.

In the third quarter, Terra Nova managed to pull ahead, with the score standing at 29-28 at the beginning of the fourth. The Rams moved ahead early in the fourth and the score saw-sawed back and forth from there to the finish.

With four minutes left to play, the Rams were leading by five points, but fouls and a baseline jumper by Jim Bresnahan evened the score and set the stage for the dramatic finish.

With only eight seconds to go, Terra Nova's Kenny scored the winning basket on a jump shot.

High scorer for the game was Terra Nova's Jim Bresnahan, with 15. Narvis Thompson scored 12 for the Rams, and Gary Soules 11.

DENTAL HEALTH FACTS

"Cavities"

There are millions of bacteria in your mouth. Some are quite harmful because they act on sugars and other carbohydrates to form acids. These acids dissolve the enamel of the teeth. That is the beginning of tooth decay.

Unless decay is stopped by a dentist, who removes the decayed portion of the tooth and puts in a filling, decay proceeds from the enamel into the dentin and then into the pulp. Once the pulp has been infected, it may be too late to save the tooth.

Have your dentist check your teeth and take care of any cavities that may be present.

Dr. Campbell limits his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for some; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

Funds Needed For Jail

San Francisco's County Jail at San Bruno needs $700,000 above and beyond its annual budget, for modernization and increased staff.

That's what Sheriff Matthew C. Carberry said last week in a special request to the San Francisco County Controller's office.

Carberry said his regular budget would not be ready for several days, but that these special allotments would be needed to bring the jail up to requirements of the State Board of Corrections.

He requested $419,500 for jail classrooms, shower rooms on each floor to supplement the single basement shower room, additional bunks, and sanitation facilities for kitchen personnel.

The sheriff said $295,780 should be budgeted for 38 "badly needed employees," including new deputies and sergeants, two male nurses, two stationary engineers, two rehabilitation officers, a clerk-stenographer, three cooks, and a storekeeper.

Carberry asked, further, for a supplemental appropriation so he could hire 26 of those employees by March 1.

He suggested that the city and county of San Francisco could recoup some of its jail expenses by seeking legislation requiring the state to pay for felony prisoners committed to the county misdemeanor jail system.

Sheriff Carberry said it costs San Francisco taxpayers about $180,000 a year to feed the state's prisoners lodged at San Bruno jail.

Daly City To Pay $23,130 For Gas, Oil

Daly City councilmen have awarded to the Olympian Oil Co., a Gulf Oil Corp. products distributor, the contract to furnish gas and oil to the city.

The successful lowbid was $23,130.

The council also authorized the awarding of furniture and carpet contracts for the new City Hall.

Fine Furniture Company of San Francisco submitted the low bid for Gemini Carpet by the Fifth Company. The price is $4,674.

Contract to supply and install 75 auditorium chairs, made by Erwin Corporation, has been awarded to the B & G Holsinger Corporation of Burlingame. Cost to the city will be $3,312.

The Republic Steel Corporation of San Leandro received the contract to install 100 steel lockers in the police department, at a cost of $3,168.95.

D.C. May Yet Win $70,000

Daly City Planner Ed Lawson said last week there "was some likelihood" the State Department of Planning would reverse its present stand and approve a $70,000 grant needed to complete the city's general plan.

"We are still hoping to get the grant during this fiscal year," Lawson said.

Lawson said he recently sent a letter to state planner Elton Andrews informing him of the progress on construction of the Bay Area Rapid Transit station in Daly City and the "urgent need for action approving the funds."

Instead of funding the money, Andrews shelved the application and said the request was three times more than funds asked by other Peninsula cities.

"Apparently, there has been a misunderstanding concerning this application," Lawson told The Post after learning of the rejection by Andrews' office.

"The money would be used for a general plan for our city — not for urban renewal. The reason BART was brought into the picture was to illustrate the urgency of planning in the neighborhood around the new system."

According to Lawson, only 23 requests for funds from cities, out of a total of 55 state-wide, were approved.

Downtown S.S.F. Rejuvenation Plan Told

Members of the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce "discussed a variety of plans for routing traffic and arranging parking in the downtown shopping area Wednesday."

Committee members agreed upon the necessity of establishing off-street parking at the luncheon meeting, and debated the feasibility of making Grand Avenue a one-way street and prohibiting on-street parking on Grand, Baden and Miller avenues.

Paul Markling, of Markling Lane and Grand Avenue and Yamasaki Architects, a Fourth Lane and Miller Avenue.

The firm retained to perform a survey for the rejuvenation program, outlined preliminary plans for six off-street parking lots at the meeting.

Markling's plans call for two-level lots between Third and Grand Avenue and routing downtown traffic "take into consideration the probability that the city will eventually be served by wing-type arterial routes off the Bayshore Freeway."

City Planner Daniel Pass suggested that any plans for creating several alternate traffic flow patterns, including proposals for one-way traffic on all three of the main downtown streets.

Police Chief John Fabbri presented statistics on the present traffic arrangement and pointed out several problems which must be surmounted in order to provide access to the proposed parking lots.

Both Fabbri and Pass indicated they favor flexible plans which will allow for ultimate construction of the wing-type freeway connecting roads.

Pass also recommended that plans for the two-level parking facilities be altered to allow construction of third floors as the need arises.

Some Smiles

Louanne Heath

There are smiles, according to the old ballad, which make people feel almost any emotion from sorrow to joy, but the smiles which will be greeting the guests at this Saturday's Fashions Mystique in the Grand Ballroom of the Fairmont Hotel will all be estatic!

The reason?

The Westlake Catholic Women have succeeded in planning an elegant afternoon with fine food and chic fashions that will draw more than 1,200 ladies to the hotel on top of San Francisco's Nob Hill.

Mrs. Joanne Moulton says the event has been a complete sellout for more than a week now, and the chairmen, Mrs. Dino Tonelli and Mrs. Alfred Fambri, are walking on clouds. To handle the hoard of fashion conscious local ladies the chairman of hostesses, Mrs. William Murray and Mrs. Edward O'Donnell have selected 41 hostesses to greet the guests as they arrive and seat them at their tables.

GETTING ready for their mammoth assignments are hostesses Mrs. William Arata, Mrs. Joseph Batchelder, Mrs. Robert Bastida, Mrs. Frank Burns, Mrs. Harvey Christensen, Mrs. Harry Churton, Mrs. Bruno Columbini, Mrs. Robert Cremen, Mrs. John Cresalia, Mrs. James Diggins, Mrs. William Feeley and Mrs. Robert Foppiano.

Mrs. Richard Galliane and Mrs. Salvatore Gamba, are hostesses as are Mrs. J. Norman Gehre, Mrs. John Gilligan, Mrs. Donald Gordon, Mrs. John Grealish, Mrs. Joseph Hayden, Mrs. John Kavanaugh, Mrs. Frank Kelecheva, Mrs. Francis Kelly, Mrs. Jock Loughran, Mrs. Frank Magnani, Mrs. Richard Mudge, and Mrs. James Murray.

Other hostesses include, Mrs. George McLoughlin, Mrs. Edward O'Neill, Mrs. Thomas Perlite, Mrs. Rocco Picone, Mrs. Robert Reich, Mrs. Leo Revello, Mrs. Michael Shanahan, Mrs. John Shubunka, Mrs. Clyde Silverthorn, Mrs. Ernest Soucy, Mrs. Joan Stack, Mrs. John Sullivan, Mrs. Adeline Willdin and Mrs. Matthew Zidich.

NEW officers for the Art Guild of Pacifica have been announced and Sydney Clark will preside over the executive board for the coming year. Assisting him will be Mrs. Dorothy King, vice president; Mrs. Carol Kirkpatrick, secretary, and Hermann Loger; Robert Parker, Kurt Poehleman, Angel Stewart and Mrs. Lucile Sutherland, members of the executive board.

The guild continues to grow and the names of Jeri Allyne and Donna McCracken have been added to the membership list.

THIS Saturday is the date of departure for the members of the ever busy Fifty Plus Club of Pacifica. Destination this month is Mexico and the members who are going on the tour will be absent from their social circles for 23 days.

Pacifica senior citizens who would be interested in joining this group and taking part in some of their activities should write to Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan, 560 Dolphin Drive for more information.

MEMBERS of Mrs. Ruthildk Candee's Intermediate German Class at the Jefferson Adult School celebrated the end of the fall term with a party in the home of Mrs. Candee and her husband, Lester, last week.

Mrs. Gwen Hans, Mrs. Norma Stahlecker, Mrs. Mary Summers, Mrs. Eleanor Ehrhorn, Mrs. Sandra White, Mrs. Patricia Leitner, Harry Franlacher, Wesley Fladborg, M. Smith, Marie Hilgar, Mrs. Bessie Runge, Mrs. Estell Nagel, Mrs. Madeline Mills, Lorraine Lee and Dr. Mary Margaret Scobey meet in their classroom at Westmoor and then, with official sanction, then trekked to the Forridge home of the Candees for slides of Austria, taken by the Candees, and to listen to German records supplied by Fladborg and Smith.

Beginner and intermediate classes in German resumed last evening at Westmoor for the spring semester and everyone is welcome, according to Mrs. Candee. For more information call the Jefferson Union High School District offices on South Mayfair.

THE Holy Angel's Women Guild will meet for the regular monthly session tonight in the parish hall, according to Mrs. Chris Sigie, publicity chairman.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Michael B. Flanagan, M.D., the noted local obstetrician and gynecologist. Dr. Flanagan who has offices in Westlake and San Francisco will speak on the subject of "Therapeutic Abortions." A question and answer period will follow.

Mrs. Theresa Bernie and her refreshment committee will serve a light dessert to guild members following the meeting.

TEEN TOPICS

The Jefferson High Teen Club, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, will have a dance Saturday from 8 to 11 p.m. at the War Memorial Community Center.

Cost to members is 50 cents and 75 cents for guests. Live music will be provided; dress is to be school clothes; doors will close at 8:45 p.m.

FIVE BUSLOADS of Junior High age youngsters Saturday will take the annual Daly City Recreation Department Junior Teen Snow Trip.

Buses for members of the Casualties and Imperials Junior Teen Clubs will leave from the War Memorial Community Center.

Those for members of the Roof Raisers, Know Names and Telstars Junior Teen Clubs will leave from Westmoor Park Clubhouse.

All youngsters should plan to be at the designated pickup points no later than 5:15 a.m.

THE "TIKI HUT" in Pacifica is gone.

The upstairs area of Oddstad has been stripped of all previous decoration and is now being painted out.

A new name is needed which can apply to both the weekly drop-in type of activity as well as the dances which will be held once a month. Teens interested in helping the Pacifica recreation department plan and conduct these activities should contact Gary Ware on Thursday afternoons or evenings at Oddstad Center or phone 355-4151, extension 28.

Women Plan Anniversary Celebration

Members of St. Veronica's Women's Club tomorrow will celebrate their Fifteenth Anniversary at 8 p.m. in the school cafeteria, 434 Alida Way, South San Francisco.

From first meetings in 1953 at the home of Mrs. Charles H. Carlyle, the club membership moved to the newly completed church later that year under the leadership of its first president Mrs. Oliver Conroy.

Today, with some 240 members, the Women's Club has required even larger quarters and meets monthly in the school cafeteria, completed in 1958.

Formed to promote the spiritual, financial and social welfare of St. Veronica's parish, the group also gives financial and moral support to civic affairs. The major fund raising events include the Fall Fashion Show and the school Guild Spring "Sew and Show" which will be held this year on February 18.

Highlights of the Anniversary program will include entertainment by the present membership and recognition of the fifteen past presidents.

Also honored that evening will be eleven former members who have since left the parish.

They include the Mmes. Edwin Myers, Leslie Davis, Lolita Heilman, Betty Everett, William Birmingham, J.A. Buller, Donald Delaney, Warren Garvey, G. Taffon, Daniel Chadbourne, and Marcella Stalker.

Bayshore Gets Ready for Its P-TA Program

Mrs. Pleskach last year received her National Honorary Life Membership Award from the Bayshore P-TA. She also is a past president of the unit.

On the committee with Mrs. Pleskach are Mrs. Frank Barbara and Mrs. B. A. Painchaud.

This program will be held at the Bayshore Sanitary Fill Hall, 2908 Geneva Avenue, Daly City.

Rockhound Speaker Is Planned

The Daly City Rockhounds announced that Howard Greiser of San Jose will be their guest speaker February 6 at 8 p.m. at the War Memorial Building.

Greiser, with over 30 years in the making of monuments, began his career in Los Angeles where, with a scholarship to Otis Art Institute, he studied many media and determined that sculpture suited him best and interested him most. Since then he has experimented with many techniques and materials and has developed a means of carving jade in the abrasive by impact or, as he terms it "fast erosion," a refinement of the old sand-blast method.

The program, during which Greiser will discuss his methods of carving and sculpture, and exhibit some of his work, should be of great interest to rockhounds, and particularly to those who wish to do something different in the field of sculpture.

Terra Nova Topics

By MARIA MONTENEGRO

The TN campus is extra quiet this week to make way for dreaded semester exams. The quietest (and happiest) day will be Friday, a day off for semester break.

THE LEAST QUIET place around the campus these days is the TN music room. Band and chorus instructor John Bentley has just recently started two after-school bands.

One is a Dixieland pep band for basketball games and for performances as a novelty group complete with straw hats, bow ties, and the TN majorettes who've handed in their batons and march music for flapper dresses and the Charleston. The larger dance band meets every Monday night from 7:30 to 9 p.m. and is still in its organizational stages. It is open to students, parents, and anyone with musical experience interested in playing big band arrangements.

Wait, that's not all . . .

Bentley also hopes to put on a musical comedy presentation with the TN chorus this spring if he can get a few more male voices and a pianist.

Scheduled for March is a variety show directed jointly by Bentley and drama instructor David Campbell.

Before that, on February 18, the fourth annual Jefferson Union High School District band festival will be held at Terra Nova. The bands of each school in the district will play as one band with each director directing two numbers.

Also, in its planning stages is a district honor band in which the best band students from each high school in the district will play. It will be directed by Bentley.

LAST WEEK'S newly elected student body officers for next semester are: vice president, Glen Shanks; treasurer, Charles Porter; commissioner of athletics, Jim Bonner; commissioner of clubs, Kathy McGrady, and commissioner of student safety and control, Bob Meyer.

Re-elected for second terms were president, Gary Topolinski; secretary, Betty Wiswell, and commissioner of publicity, Maria Montenegro. A run-off election between Marla Kepic and Janice Wong will determine who will be commissioner of rallies and entertainment.

PROMISING to be even better than the first edition, the second quarterly issue of Tiger Tales magazine will go on sale next week. Three of the major articles deal with opinion polls taken on Vietnam, sex education and early marriages.

Club Seeks Used Clothing

The Daly City Navy Mothers' Club No. 929 has received a letter from a U.S. Naval Mobile Construction Battalion Five in Vietnam asking for clean, used clothing for the people of the village of My Thi (Mee Tee) and the surrounding areas.

Craig Marshall (CES2) of the civic affairs office stated his battalion has helped build a three-room schoolhouse and that they donate their time to helping out in the local orphanage and also help to distribute clothing and candy to the Da Nang hospital.

Anyone interested in donating clean usable clothing may contact Mrs. Lucille Jones at 755-1674.

The Daly City Navy Mothers' Club is having a membership drive and anyone interested in joining may contact Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Juanita Perada, 755-1351 or Mrs. Beatrice Neil, 583-3395.

Play Exercise For Spindrift

The Spindrift Playhouse used Dylan Thomas' play for voices "Under Milk Wood" last week as a group exercise in characterizations and line-reading.

The community theatre organization met Wednesday at Pacifica library.

The 54 characters in the play were read by seven persons, each assuming various roles of the Welsh villagers Thomas described in their activities during one full day.

Those who read were Estelle Novello, Barbara Carroll, Marie deLangen, Ethel Marks, Gilbert West, Jeff Auerbach and Nathaniel Marks.

Members of the cast of "Invitation to a March," a comedy now in rehearsal, reported on their weekly attendance Saturday mornings at a drama workshop in San Francisco. The training in acting technique augments instruction given at rehearsals by Nathaniel Marks, director of the play.

Wyman Spalding, appearing in the Interplayers production of "You Can't Take it With You" and a teacher of drama, conducts the sessions. A group of The Spindrift Playhouse members attended a performance last Saturday. Spalding led a discussion of the play afterward.

Marie deLangen was named program chairman for the next informal dinner meeting on Tuesday, February 14, Valentine's Day.

Musical Review

To Be Part Of Jeff Program

The Jefferson Elementary School P-TA will observe its birthday February 1 at 7:30 p.m.

A musical review, based on "Hello Dolly," will be presented. In the cast will be teachers and principals of Jefferson, J. F. Kennedy and Woodrow Wilson schools, as well as the presidents of both P-TA units.

Colorful costumes of the twenties, the era in which Jefferson School was founded, will be worn. Musical numbers under the direction of Paul Carpenter will be presented.

A life membership award will be given to a person who has served the P-TA and the community for the past several years.

Lionesses Plan Benefit Dinner

The John Mongan Scholarship Fund will be swelled from the proceeds of an annual dinner sponsored by the Daly City-Colma Lioness Club.

Mrs. Trudy Scanlon, president, said the dinner will be held at 7:30 p.m., February 9, at the home of Mrs. Lyl (Ann) Ingersoll, 439 Crocker Avenue, Daly City.

Mrs. Scanlon said, "Usually the annual fund-raising affair is held at a local restaurant. Thanks to Lioness Ingersoll, we shall be able to donate a greater sum to the Mongan Fund."

Mrs. Ingersoll will be hostess for the evening. The late John Mongan was principal of Jefferson Union High School for some 15 years. At the time of his death last year, his family requested "no flowers," suggesting instead that friends set up a memorial scholarship fund.

This suggestion was carried out and the scholarship established for the benefit of Jefferson High students.

DANCER KIA VINSON will appear at the John Mongan Scholarship Fund dinner, to be held under auspices of the Daly City-Colma Lioness Club, February 9. Miss Vinson, a junior at Westmoor High School, is a student of the St. Francis Heights Dance and Music Guild, Daly City.

Lions Speech Contest Launched At D.C.'s Westmoor High School

The thirtieth annual Student Speakers Contest, under the auspices of the Daly City-Colma Lions Club, has been launched at Westmoor High School in Daly City.

Topic for 1966-67, "Peace Is Attainable" is part of a world-wide program in observance of the Lions International Golden Anniversary.

Joe Mottola, president, Daly City-Colma Lions Club, said this particular contest is sponsored by the Lions Clubs of California and Nevada.

"Traditionally," he said, "Lions are interested in youth activities, particularly those that build true appreciation of the fine students of today who will be our community leaders of tomorrow, and of the teachers and educators who voluntarily coach these students in the hope of developing the qualities of leadership."

Lion Bill Scanlon is chairman of the Student Speakers Contest for the Daly City-Colma Lions and is co-operating with speech teacher Holden, coach of the Westmoor entrants.

The 8 p.m. program will feature a tribute to the founders of P.T.A. Alice McLellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst. Musical entertainment will be provided by the Westmoor Dance Band.

A highlight of the evening will be the presentation of an honorary life membership in the P.T.A. The chairman of the selection committee is Ellis Ward.

Neuenschwander-Partridge Wedding Held in San Bruno

Jeanne Neuenschwander was escorted down the aisle of St. Robert's Catholic Church this morning by her father, Paul Robert Neuenschwander. Before the altar decorated with red and white floral arrangements, Jeanne exchanged marriage vows with Kenneth Robert Partridge.

For the 10 a.m. ceremony, the bride wore a full-length gown of lace fashioned with a lace train, long sleeves and a fitted waistline. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias and red roses.

Sandra Neuenschwander served as the maid of honor for her sister in a gown of lime green with a green and white lace top. Her flowers were white daisies. In similar attire were Natalie Des Ruisseaux and Joanne Des Ruisseaux Jones.

Kenneth, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Partridge of Auburn, Wash., asked his brother James to be the best man. Mark Neuenschwander, the bride's brother, assisted with seating the guests.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Neuenschwander greeted guests wearing a three-piece green suit.

The new matron is a graduate of Oceana High School. Her husband is an alumnus of Auburn High School. They will make their first home in Pacifica. For a wedding tour of Northern California, Jeanne has selected a going-away outfit of light blue and black accessories.

Sunday Service At Westlake

Mid-week Lenten Services will be held on Ash Wednesday evening, February 8, at 7:30 o'clock.

Solar System Maps Presented Children

A bank helped move Daly City sixth graders closer to space travel Friday.

Large solar system charts were presented by P. Everett Terminello, president of First National Bank of Daly City, to sixth graders of 13 Jefferson Elementary School District schools and three Daly City parochial schools.

In making the presentation to Frank Greenwood, district superintendent, and Robert Muller, district instructional materials consultant, Terminello said, "We feel that the charts are in the best interest of the community. We're hopeful that the pupils' parents also will find them informative and interesting."

Don Fondre, an educational services officer with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at Ames Research Center, Mountain View, stressed to the pupils the importance of the study of space and of entering professions, oriented toward both space study and travel.

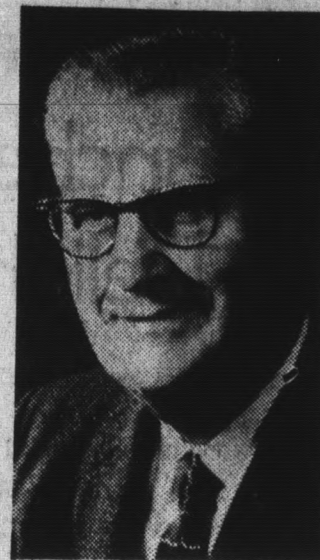

"Now is the time for young people to seriously consider their future occupations and I feel that working on space projects can be very rewarding to both men and women," Fondre said.

The charts, to be distributed by the sixth graders' teachers, illustrate relative sizes of major planets in relation to the sun, and list pertinent facts on the universe and man's efforts toward traveling to the planets.

In a letter to the Jones company, James V. Bernardo, director of educational programs and services for NASA in Washington, D.C., said in part that the charts "have a motivating effect on school children as well as teachers and parents should find them very useful as a quick source of reference."

The children, from 38 different classes, will take the charts home. Schools involved in the program are:

Abraham Lincoln, Christopher Columbus, Colma Intermediate, Daniel Webster, Fernando Rivera, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Garden Village, George Washington, Jefferson, Margaret P. Brown, Thomas Edison, Vista Mar, Westlake, Our Lady of Mercy, Our Lady of Help, and Our Lady of Holy Angels.

THE REV. DR. Mars A. Dale, Minneapolis, will take over the 30 years' experience to the evening services planned at the Our Redeemer's Lutheran Church, South San Francisco, Sunday through Wednesday, February 12-15.

Rabbi Leibert To Officiate At Services

During the recuperation of Rabbi Herbert Morris from surgery, Rabbi Julius A. Leibert will officiate at Services at the Temple on Brotherhood Way on February 3.

Rabbi Leibert took his Regent's examinations in New York, was graduated from the University of Cincinnati and was ordained Rabbi at the Hebrew Union College, Cincinnati, Ohio. He retired from the Service in 1948 as a Chaplain with the rank of Lieutenant colonel. He has served on the faculties of Pensacola Junior College and Tulane.

Rabbi Leibert has authored the following books: "Facing the Sun," "The Lawgiver," (translated into Hebrew in Israel), "The Wives of King David," and "Behind Bars."

Rabbi Leibert is a member of the California Bar Association.

Pastor A. David Donnelly will speak on the topic, "The Permanence of Love," another in a series of messages from the book of First Corinthians.

Mr. and Mrs. James Chappell, Mrs. Ann Kerr, and Bob Anderson will be welcomed as new members.

At the 7 p.m. Sunday Family Fellowship Gospel Hour, the High School Youth, with Mr. and Mrs. Moses Hernandez, their sponsors, will present a play entitled, "In Times Like These." This play emphasizes the need for families to worship together.

Nursery Answers Protests

A nursery school replied today to four Daly City homeowners who earlier filed a complaint with the city charging the 32 children attending the Florence Street School "distracted" them to a point where they could not "enjoy their backyards."

Toyland Nursery School Director Grace W. Wilson said she was not aware the complaint had been filed by the homeowners, but wondered "what is the matter with adults — have they forgotten they were once children?"

The homeowners complained children throw things over the school fence into their backyards and noise from the children caused one family to keep their windows tightly shut.

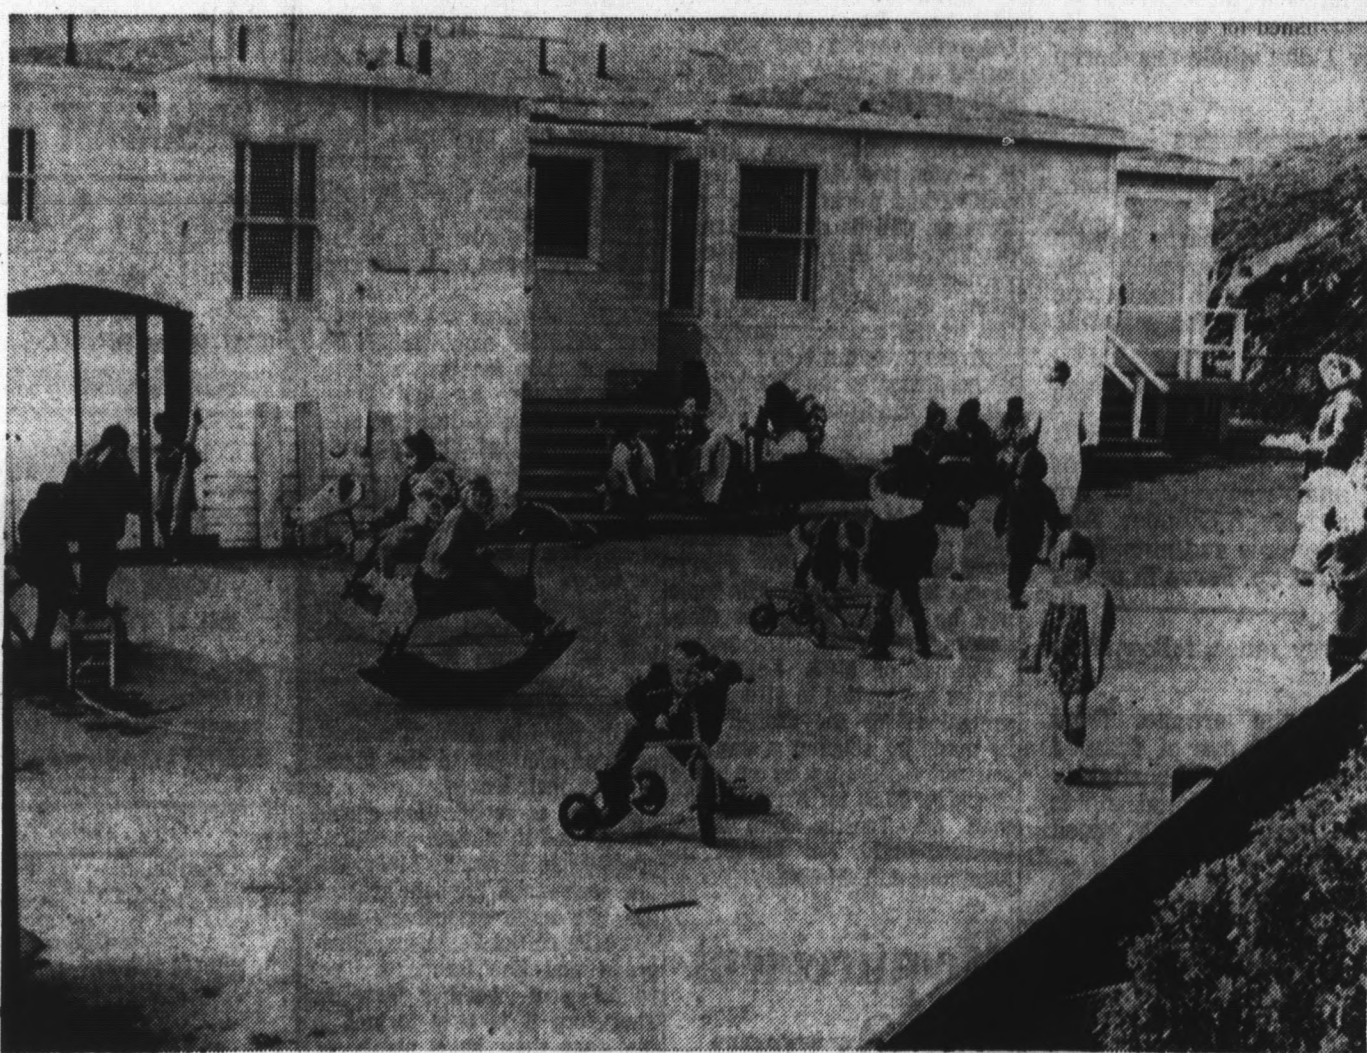

"If the children throw things into yards, I apologize because we do not allow this sort of thing," Mrs. Wilson told The Times. "I will be glad to have our 'yard boy' pick up whatever items are thrown over the fence whenever the school is notified."

The current battle between homeowners and Toyland Nursery began shaping up about two years ago when Mrs. Wilson requested a use permit for a nursery school at 25 Florence — a plot of land adjoining a previously purchased acre of property.

The use permit for the nursery was granted by both the Planning Commission and the City Council over loud protests of the homeowners.

Mrs. Wilson said an acre of land was purchased in 1962 and a use permit granted at that time for a nursery designed for some 85 children.

"We had hoped to build this larger school but were unable to get the necessary funds. When the house at 25 Florence Street — adjoining our acre site — was vacated about two years ago, I bought the property and requested a use permit for the nursery," Mrs. Wilson explained. "Access to the present nursery is over a ten-foot wide concrete road," which is also used by the homeowners. The school is located at the extreme end of this roadway.

Crestmoor Club Sets Workshop

Crestmoor Garden Club will meet Wednesday, February 1, at 8 p.m. at the Crestmoor Elementary School in San Bruno, with a gardening workshop the theme of the evening.

Pine Tree Smog Damage

Air pollution is rising and spreading into the far mountains of California, according to Dr. C. Ray Thompson, chemist with the University of California Air Pollution Research Center at Riverside.

Addressing the California Society of Range Management, Thompson reported that smog can travel and damage forests far from the source of the smog and that ozone and peroxyacetyl nitrates, products of smog, are inflicting severe damage on forage and forest plants.

The research chemist said that photochemical smog is instrumental in causing severe leaf mottle and leaf drop on ponderosa and Jeffrey pine in the San Bernardino mountains at altitudes up to 7,000 feet. He explained the pollutants in this smog interact with chronic diseases caused by drought and insects to weaken the entire forest population.

Mrs. Kenneth Judnick, vice president will instruct members on the proper method of planting seeds. Each member will plant a container with the same type of flower seeds and take them home to cultivate. The plants grown from these seeds will then be judged in the horticulture section of the inter-club flower show scheduled for May.

Mrs. Robert Dobins, president, announced that two members each month are helping to keep the servicemen's lounge at the airport supplied with home-baked cookies. The lounge is a semi-autonomous unit of the Bay Area USO that averages between 500 and 700 visitors a day.

Mrs. Carl Muehlendorf and Mrs. Edward Murphy will be hostesses for the evening and invite residents of Crestmoor who are interested in gardening to attend the meeting.

The Crestmoor Garden Club is a member of the Bay-Ocean District of California Garden Clubs, Inc.

Sugar 'n Spice Luncheon Delight

Nell Norton

Good morning, good cooks.

I'm in the happy position of having so many new recipes that I can't decide which ones to share today.

In all departments — entrees, salads, desserts — I'm suffering an embarrassment of riches. I know it's poor manners to brag about wealth, but I can't help it. I'm rich, rich, rich in recipes.

One of my best sources of recipes is the luncheon group to which I belong. The "GG's" have been meeting for years and since all these gals are such good and artistic cooks each luncheon is a pleasure to the eye as well as the palate.

This month's hostess was Mrs. Frances Cohen of 1501 Thirty-fourth Avenue, San Francisco, and the luncheon was a delight from beginning to end.

CHICKEN DIVANE MOLDED FRESH CRANBERRY SALAD CAKES AND ASSORTED COOKIES

This chicken casserole is so delicious and easy to make that you will place it in your "use often" file. Fran cooked the chicken herself, but you could use canned chicken if you wish.

CHICKEN DIVANE

- 2 packages frozen broccoli
- 2 cups chicken, cooked
- 2 cans cream of chicken soup
- 1 cup mayonnaise
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon curry
- 1/2 cup shredded sharp cheese
- 1/2 cup bread crumbs
- 1 tablespoon melted butter

Place the broccoli which has been cooked according to the directions on the package in the bottom of a buttered casserole. Next arrange the two cups of cooked chicken over the broccoli. Combine the two cans of cream of chicken soup, one cup mayonnaise, one teaspoon lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon curry and mix well. Pour this mixture over the chicken and spread the one-half cup of crumbs which have been combined with the tablespoon of melted butter, over the top. Bake in a 350-degree oven for 40 minutes. Serves 6.

MOLDED CRANBERRY SALAD

- 1 package raspberry gelatin
- 2 cups water
- 2 cups fresh cranberries or 1 can whole cranberry sauce
- 1 orange
- 1 cup sugar, if you use fresh cranberries
- 1 can crushed pineapple, No. 1 flat
- 1/2 cup chopped nuts

Combine the one package of raspberry gelatin with one cup of boiling water. Next drain pineapple and add the juice and enough water to make one cup liquid, to the hot gelatin. Mix well and set aside to cool.

This part of the recipe is for the use of fresh cranberries.

Put the two cups raw frozen cranberries through food chopper. Peel and remove seeds from orange, quarter and put this through chopper. Add sugar and mix well. Stir in pineapple and nuts. Fold into gelatin when it begins to set up. Serve in molds or one large mold.

If you plan to use cranberry sauce, follow these directions.

Peel, quarter and seed the orange. Send through food chopper. Add the one can of drained pineapple and half cup of nuts. Fold into slightly congealed gelatin mix. Pour into individual molds and unmold onto chopped lettuce, top with sliced avocado and a French dressing.

SCOTCH TREATS

- 1 package butter scotch morsels
- 1/2 cup chunk style peanut butter
- 3 cups corn flakes or rice krispies

Melt the one package of butterscotch morsels and the one-half cup of chunk-style peanut butter over hot, but not boiling water; stir until well blended. Remove from heat. Add the three cups cereal and stir until well coated.

Drop by teaspoonfuls onto waxed paper. Put in refrigerator to cool and set up.

Delicious!

Now Is the Time to Fight the Crabgrass

By IVA NEWMAN

Unfortunately the majority of our lawn maintenance products are manufactured in the Midwest and the East. It is very difficult for the people who get out the publicity and take care of the advertising for these products to realize that grass, crabgrass and weeds are starting to grow in this part of California while the view outside their windows show the lawns covered with several inches of snow.

The hard facts are that although it is still officially winter, even here on the Peninsula, weed and crabgrass seeds are beginning to stir in our lawns and the roots of our desirable turf grasses are active. Late January and early February is not a bit too soon to start a program of lawn beautification that has prevention as its basis.

The first step is to prevent undesirable seeds from sprouting. For this we use a pre-emergence material that acts on the seeds to prevent them from sprouting. These materials will contain any of the following ingredients: lead arsenate; calcium arsenate chlordane, or one of the several new materials being made available. Pre-emergence crabgrass killers are sold under a number of trade names. Read the label for the "active" material so you will know what you are using. Once the crabgrass has sprouted the pre-emergence material will have no effect.

No Crabgrass in See-1 Packet
Don't labor under the false assumption that you got the crabgrass in your lawn with your lawn grass seed. A study of nearly 600 commercial lots of lawn seed by the Lawn Institute and Seed Technology, showed not one to contain a single seed of crabgrass. Crabgrass just is not found in the bluegrass, fine fescue and Highland bentgrass seed fields. If crabgrass is in your lawn, its seed must be residual in the soil. Prevent its appearance this spring by using a crabgrass preventer now.

Also now, while the soil is moist to a good depth, is the time to fertilize. Unlike most crops, lawngresses are grown for green leaf. So long as phosphorus, potassium and trace element needs are reasonably satisfied, nitrogen is the key to good look. Turfgrass fertilizers usually contain from two to four times as much nitrogen as do regular garden formulations. Whereas a regular garden fertilizer's formula would read 10-10-10, one for grass would read 10-5-5 or 15-5-5. (The first figure in the formula is nitrogen.)

The recommended amount of nitrogen for each 1,000 square feet of lawn is one pound of actual nitrogen. This means that if you are using a fertilizer with a 10-5-5 formula, you would need to apply ten pounds of fertilizer to every one thousand square feet of lawn. The recommended frequency of application is one pound of actual nitrogen per one thousand square feet of lawn each month with the exceptions of July and August.

Some of the new fertilizers, made up especially for lawns such as "TurfBuilder plus 4," obtainable at most all our garden supply stores and nurseries, contain as weed and crabgrass preventer plus an insect fighter, mixed right along with the fertilizer. All the gardener needs do is follow the directions on the package and he takes care of his lawn's needs in one easy application. Do not use these special fertilizer mixes on a dichondra lawn unless it specifically states on the package that it may be used on dichondra. However, there are special dichondra formulations that contain the required amount of fertilizer plus crabgrass, weed and grass plus insect controls. Read your labels before you buy and again before you apply any fertilizer or combination of fertilizer and weed or insect control.

Different lawns will have varying fertilizer requirements depending upon location, soil and other factors. By and large, sandy and quick-draining soils require frequent but light-rate application of fertilizer. Heavier soils such as our clays and adobe retain the nutrients longer so once a month is adequate for them.

However, these heavier soils may tie-up phosphorus, a problem well known to agriculturists. Soluble plant food sprayed on the grass foliage by-passes soil fixation by giving the needed food element to the plants through their leaves.

Timing of fertilization should correspond to climate as well as grass type. Kentucky bluegrass, fine fescue and the bent grasses are the most extensively used varieties on the Peninsula. Bluegrass and fine fescue are so-called cool weather grasses. Therefore it is only logical to see that they have plenty of food during the cool months when autumn through spring, the grass can make the best use of it. Late summer feedings encourage autumn tillering and rhizoming, thus thickening the turf at a time of year when short day length keeps growth low, and mowing easy. Autumn and winter are suitable for feeding Bluegrass on heavier soils; tests show the nutrients to be absorbed, not lost through volatilization or leaching.

Of course some summer feeding is desirable, if for no other reason than to maintain color. But don't force Bluegrass or fine fescue to lush growth in hot weather. This is an invitation to disease and even death of the turf.

Bentgrasses may profit from heavier stimulation, but here, too, fertilizer applications, should be lightest in hot weather. It is not advisable to apply more than one pound of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of turf at any one feeding.

Mowing height of the grass in your lawn is important. Some grasses adjust to close mowing, while others do well only when mowed relatively tall. Kentucky bluegrass and fine fescues are best mowed at one and a half to two inches in height. Bentgrasses and bermudas are generally mowed between one half and one inch in height (putting green varieties even less).

We homeowners on the Peninsula must watch the moisture content of the soil and be ready to water when the soil is dry enough for the grass to approach the wilting point. There is no general rule that can be applied to watering. Porous, sandy soils are best watered frequently, but more lightly than the heavier clay and adobe soils. These last will need watering less frequently but must be thoroughly soaked with each application.

Gardening Awards To Be Given

Two of the Bay Area's top horticultural figures will be honored at the sixteenth annual dinner-meeting of the Oakland-East Bay Garden Center Inc., Saturday February 4 at 6:30 p.m. in the Lakeside Park Garden Center building, Oakland.

A special award Lady of the Year for 1966 — will be presented to Mrs. Ellen Leloy of Lafayette, who has been the guiding hand throughout the development of the impressive reference collection of horticultural books and publications in the Garden Center library since its inception in 1961. Mrs. Leloy is a charter member and long time officer of the East Bay Rose Society, and she has been an active member and officer of the big Garden Center group. Mrs. Leloy has hosted the San Mateo County Rose Society many times in her lovely Lafayette garden and she has served as a judge at many of their prize-winning annual rose shows.

Former nurseryman, Arthur E. Navlet, now an insurance executive and world traveler, lecturer, will be named Man of the Year for 1966 by the 60-club garden group. In addition to his many determinative contributions to the areas horticultural progress over the years, Navlet is recognized as the "Father" of the world-famed Children's Fairland.

Sepaker of the evening will be James W. Wilson, second vice president of the Men's Garden Clubs of America and Public Relations director for Ferry-Morse Seed Company. His topic will be "What Motivates Gardeners."

Friends of Mrs. Leloy and Navlet are invited to attend. Reservations for the dinner may be made by sending a stamped self-addressed envelope and check for $3.50 to: Fred A. Goldman, 801 Trestle Glen Road, Oakland 94610. For further information call 451-6344.

Requirement For Oxygen

Soil physicists at the University of California, Riverside, are delving into the unexplored ability of some plants to provide their roots with extra oxygen when ground water restricts their intake from the soil.

This research could eventually make possible crops capable of tolerating less oxygen intake through their roots.

During their earlier research, the scientists found that roots of different plants do not grow when oxygen diffusion rates in soils drop below certain levels.

Storm Puts Crespi School Past Deadline

The long-awaited Crespi Elementary School in Pacifica will not be completed in time for the beginning of the 1973 school term next September, Laguna Salada Union School District officials revealed last week.

District Supt. Frederick Lucas and financial assistant John Munt said new delays brought about by weather conditions "will undoubtedly move the completion date past the September 6 deadline."

Lucas said no definite plans for accommodating the 550 students who were to attend the school have been formulated, but "in all probability some sort of shift program will be set up at one or more of the other elementary schools, possibly at the Ortega School."

The superintendent said students, teachers, and administrators for Crespi School will function as an organized school during the shift period, and will be moved into the new school as a group as soon as it is completed.

"We are now hoping the new school will be completed by the latter part of September," Lucas said, "and the students and faculty will be moved into the building as soon as it is available."

He said there will be no busing of the students.

Officials granted another extension to Phase I contractors on the school, Fontana and Son of South San Francisco, at Tuesday night's board meeting, and reported the firm will request another extension at the next meeting because of work stoppage and damage to the site from recent rain storms.

More than two months in time extensions on the project have already been granted.

The school has been plagued by delays since the project began over two years ago. The district ran into difficulties in purchasing a portion of the site, which is located 100 yards west of the intersection of Crespi Drive and Fas-Far Avenue, and progress was halted more than a year by court litigation.

Then the present troubles with site preparation began. The contractor misjudged the location of a rock formation and had to rebuild the terrace key, experienced difficulties in obtaining pipe for the drainage system, and lost an unusual amount of work time because of weather conditions.

$25,250 For Pacifica

Congressman J. Arthur Younger has announced a federal grant in the amount of $25,250 to the City of Pacifica under the urban beautification program to aid in accelerating city-wide activities to beautify parks and other public places.

The total estimated cost of urban beautification in Pacifica is $52,229, Younger said; $50,500 represents the increased annual cost over and above previous annual expenditures for comparable activities. The federal grant will cover 50 per cent of the increased amount.

Activities to be undertaken under this year's program include planting of street trees, reforestation, beautification of street central strips, turfing and community and school playing fields, initial development of raw parkland, and additional development of partially developed parks, Younger stated.

Catholic Complex Is Slowed in S. S. F.

The San Francisco Archdiocese of the Roman Catholic Church has encountered another obstacle in the way of constructing a proposed $2 million church-school complex in South San Francisco.

South San Francisco City Attorney John Noonan said yesterday he had recommended postponement of last Monday's hearing on a request for a use permit for the project. He said there were "certain questions of legality."

Noonan said there is some question "whether the city" planning commission can grant a use permit for a development on a site, when plans for a different development, on the same site, are before the city council for a public hearing."

The 18-acre site chosen for the proposed complex is part of the 170-acre West Park 3 Subdivision. Caesar-Callan Builders, owner of the subdivision, has a request before the council for approval of a "planned community" design which incorporates the entire 170-acre site.

"If the planning commission had granted a use permit for the church-school complex Tuesday, we would be in a position of being asked to approve two separate plans for development of the same site," Noonan said.

The city attorney said he is "still researching" legal aspects of the situation, and hopes to have the matter resolved prior to a planning commission meeting February 14.

City Planner Daniel Pass and Public Works Director Louis Goss have recommended that planning commissioners deny the request for a use permit for the project.

Pass contends the proposed complex would "consume one of the last areas of the city available for residential development, and also remove a prime piece of property from the city's tax rolls."

Goss, in a memorandum to the planning commission, stated he thinks the project "would place too great a traffic burden" on the streets in the area.

D.C. SCHOLAR

Carole L. Bucher, daughter of Mrs. Marlys Dale, 230 Eighty-eighth Avenue, Daly City, a senior at Eastern Washington State College, has been named to the EWSC fall quarter honor roll. Mrs. Bucher, a mathematics major at EWSC, is a graduate of Cheney, Wash., High School.

D.C. Demands Cab Office

An ordinance introduced last week to the city council was expected to force the Yellow Cab Company to open offices in Daly City.

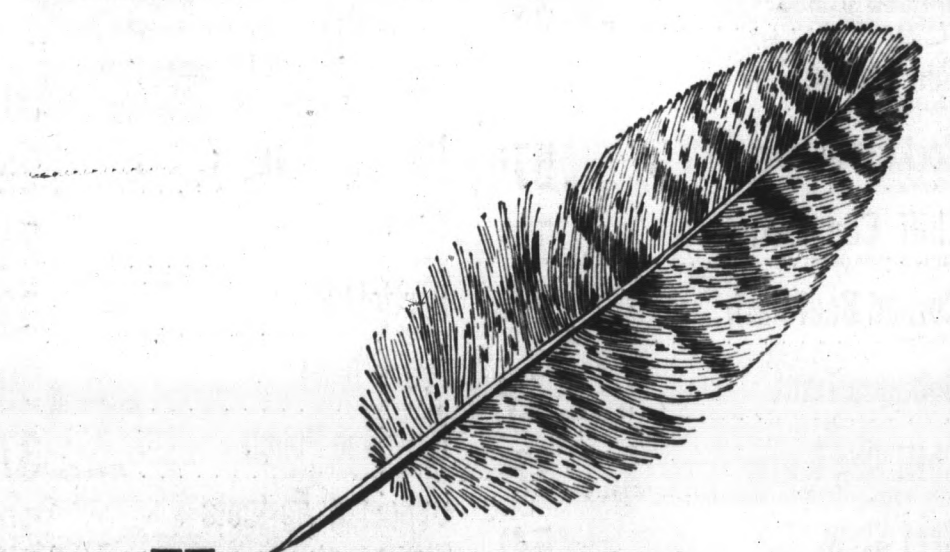

The Yellow Cab Company is the franchised operators of a fleet of taxis in Daly City and maintained offices here until last September when they started dispatching cabs from San Francisco.

Purpose in amending the present code governing taxicabs is to better control agencies considered public service types, a city official said.

One section of the proposed ordinance calls for a discontinuance of service if any taxicab company fails to maintain a dispatch office within the city limits "for a period of 45 days."

If a permit is cancelled, the company must reapply for an operating permit.

Another taxicab company requested a permit some seven months ago, but was turned down by the city.

Apple Pies That Bring Out Flavor

Just as everyone seems to have a favorite apple pie recipe, everyone seems to have a favorite apple variety. Some prefer the Red Delicious for eating; or the Golden Delicious for dessert; or the Newton or Winesap for sauces and pies. However, everyone agrees you can't make a good pie without a flavorful apple, one that keeps its tang throughout cooking.

Consequently, since we're blessed with the results of a superb harvest from Washington State's famous orchards, and the Washington Red Delicious and Winesaps available to us now, let's choose that unbeatable all-purpose variety — the Winesap — for today's selection of very special apple pie recipes.

Our Apple Betty Pie has only a top crust, and the Washington Winesaps are simmered before being used for the filling. The spices are contained in the crust.

The Double Apple Pix De Luxe simmers the apple slices in apple juice or cider. Then this liquid is thickened and flavored before being poured over the apples. This is a double-crust of doubly pleasing apple flavor. The Three-Step Apple Pie is designed to never "boil over" in your oven, as the nutmeg-cinnamon syrup is poured into the pie after baking.

Some Candy Favorites Are Wonders

All-time candy favorites are wonders to make — wonderful to give for all mid-winter special occasions. Evaporated milk and semi-sweet chocolate pieces are an "unbeatable" combination for making the creamiest fudge.

Just cook and stir — then cool until firm. There is no tricky testing or beating.

Try no-cook coconut drops, too. Top them with a blend of melted chocolate pieces and double-rich evaporated milk. Here's how, the convenient way to successful candy-making.

FABULOUS FUDGE

- 2 1/2 cups sugar
- 3/4 cup Evaporated Milk
- 16 large marshmallows or 1 cup marshmallow creme
- 3/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1 pkg. (6-oz.) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1 cup cut-up nuts

Mix in a heavy 2-quart saucepan, sugar, evaporated milk, marshmallows or marshmallow creme, butter or margarine and salt. Cook, stirring constantly, over medium heat to a boil (mixture will be bubbling all over top). Boil and stir 5 minutes more. Take off heat. Stir in Dainties until completely melted. Stir in vanilla and nuts. Spread in buttered 8-inch square pan. Cool. Cut into 30 pieces.

COCONUT DAINITIES

- 2 cups sifted confectioners (powdered) sugar
- 3/4 cup Evaporated Milk
- 2-3 cups flaked coconut
- 1 pkg. (6-oz.) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
- 3/4 cup Evaporated Milk

Mix in a 1 1/2-quart bowl, sugar and 3/4 cup evaporated milk until smooth. Stir in coconut. Drop by 2 teaspoons onto wax paper. Put into a 1-quart saucepan Dainties and 3/4 cup evaporated milk. Stir over low heat until chocolate melts completely. Swirl about 1 teaspoon of chocolate over each coconut drop. Chill. Makes about 36.

Variation: Combine confectioners sugar, evaporated milk and coconut. Melt chocolate with evaporated milk as directed. Stir into coconut mixture. Drop by teaspoonsful onto wax paper. Chill until firm.

Home Bread Still Delight To Kids

If you're in a mood to delight your youngsters, serve them fresh, home-baked bread!

- Home Bread with Butter and Jam
- Milk or Cocoa
- HOME BREAD

- 1 cup milk, scalded
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 2 tsp. salt
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 cup warm water
- 1 package active dry yeast
- 5 1/4 cups (about) unsifted regular flour

Stir the sugar, salt and butter into the scalded milk; cool to lukewarm. In a large mixing bowl, dissolve the yeast in the warm water; stir in lukewarm milk mixture, then 3 cups of the flour. With a spoon, beat until smooth. Stir and work in the remaining flour to make a soft dough. Knead until smooth and elastic on lightly floured surface — about 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl; turn to grease top. Cover with clean towel; let rise in warm draft free place until doubled — about 1 1/2 hours. Punch down; divide in half, shape into 2 loaves; place in 2 greased loaf pans (each about 8x4x3 inches). Cover and let rise as previously until doubled — about 1 hour. Bake in 400-degree oven about 30 minutes. Turn out on wire rack to cool.

These Spicy Mushrooms Are Festive

Stuffed mushrooms are festive! Baked Beef with Tomato Sauce and Rice

- Spicy Mushrooms
- Broccoli
- Chocolate Chiffon Pie
- Beverage

SPICY MUSHROOMS

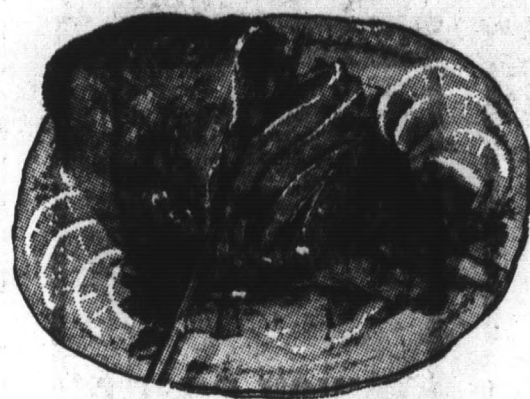

- 12 mushrooms (caps about 2 inches)
 - 1 can (4 1/2 ounces) deviled ham
 - 2 tablespoons minced onion
 - 1 1/2 thin slices bread, crusts removed and finely crumbed
 - 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- Remove stems from mushroom caps. Chop stems fine; mix with deviled ham, onion and crumbs; there should be about 1 1/3 cups. In a skillet over low heat, melt butter; add mushrooms caps and turn to coat with butter. Fill caps with ham mixture. Broil 6 to 7 inches from high heat until hot through the browned — about 15 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Green Bean, Squash Souffle Is Delicate

Unless you take green bean and yellow squash souffles as a matter of course, we think you'll agree that our house specialty is a most unusual dish.

The flavor is delicate and rich. Although the recipe says, "serve at once," you needn't panic about getting it from oven to table to plates before the great fall. This is a souffle that, for a souffle, hoods up very well.

"Mr. Blue Lake's Souffle" is an appropriately festive dish for a salute to the Blue Lake green bean canners and growers of Oregon and Washington. Their 1966 pack, now in our stores, was the biggest in history.

We've named it for Mr. Blue Lake, himself. He's the jaunty "gentleman bean" in top hat and tails, the symbol for the Blue Lake Pole beans, the original Blue Lake variety, developed especially for canning in the Northwest.

(Unfortunately, there is no way to protect a varietal name and so there are a few bush beans grown in other areas called Blue Lake. But there is only one Mr. Blue Lake and his likeness may only be used in connection with the superior green beans from the Northwest.)

We think you'll find this souffle especially good for a hot baked ham dinner. Or enjoy it with cold ham and zippy mustard for luncheon. In casserole or custard cups, we command it to your pleasure.

Try Pancakes For Lazy Mornings

On those leisurely weekend mornings when the family "sleeps in" what could be more awakening than the aroma of these delicious simple to prepare pancakes. Make it a do-it-yourself breakfast to add to the fun. Depending on the size of your family or guest list or their appetites, make Corny Pancakes or Gingerbread Pancakes or both. Bon Appetit!

CORNY PANCAKES

1 egg
1 1/2 cups milk
2 (8-ounce) packages Corn Muffin Mix
3 tablespoons orange marmalade
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Combine egg and milk; thoroughly blend with Corn Muffin Mix. Heat marmalade and butter or margarine and stir into batter. Cook on lightly greased griddle; browning lightly on both sides. Serve with maple syrup. Makes 22 to 24 pancakes.

GINGERBREAD PANCAKES

1 egg
1 1/2 cups milk
1 (14-ounce) package Gingerbread Mix
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
Combine eggs and milk thoroughly; blend with Gingerbread Mix. Stir in butter or margarine. Cook on lightly greased griddle, browning lightly on both sides. Serve with Orange Sauce. Makes 30 to 32 pancakes.

ORANGE SAUCE

1 cup sugar
1 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ground mace
1 cup cold water
1 cup orange juice
1/4 cup lemon juice
3 egg yolks
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/4 cup butter or margarine
Combine first four ingredients in a saucepan. Stir in water. Cook until thickened and clear. Mix fruit juices and egg yolks; blend into cooked mixture. Cook until slightly thickened. Stir in remaining ingredients. Serve warm over Gingerbread Pancakes. Makes 3 cups.

For Colorful Sandwiches

A few of these add color to a tray of dainty sandwiches. Spread two-inch rounds of fresh bread with pureed avocado seasoned to taste with lemon juice, salt, pepper and Tabasco sauce. Center with a toasted California walnut half or outline with a border of finely chopped walnuts.

Meanwhile, combine next four ingredients in a medium saucepan. Combine next three ingredients; gradually blend into dry ingredients. Stir in food color. Bring to a boil over medium heat stirring constantly; simmer 1 minute. Stir in pecans. Serve hot with ham. Makes 4 servings and 1 1/3 cups sauce.

Scatman Crothers Makes Appearance At Harvey's

SCATMAN CROTHERS, appearing at Harvey's Resort Hotel Theater Lounge, South Lake Tahoe, February 3 through February 23, broke into the recording business when he decided to record an album based on the "Alice In Wonderland" television special and selected Scatman, of all people, to play the part of a Cheshire cat. A show business veteran of 40 years, active duty, has been singing and entertaining people on radio, television, in motion pictures and in night clubs for the majority of his 55 years. But if you are familiar with Scatman Crothers only through his television and film appearances, you are in for a surprise when you see him with his trio in person. The trio consists of piano, bass and Scatman playing drums. Crothers still uses his huge smile and those "wide open eyes" at every opportunity and his personality pours all over the room. He does comedy skits and personal songs, but the surprise comes when the trio sings together in harmony.

Fresh Maine Lobsters Blue Point Oysters At Villa Chartier

Attention, seafood gourmets: Did you know that the Villa Chartier serves fresh daily Maine Lobsters, flown in direct from Maine and kept in the kitchen area in a special tank? To my knowledge, Villa Chartier is the only restaurant on the Peninsula offering this service.

To continue: During my last Tuesday luncheon hour at this dining mecca it was suggested by Villa Chartier and Lanai restaurant owner, Emerson Murfee, that I try fresh Blue Point Oysters served on the half Shell with a special Villa Chartier sauce. This was a great suggestion! Now I suggest you, too, enjoy the Chesapeake Bay Blue Point Oysters — luncheon or dinner.

Bar Association Plans Banquet At Stickney's

Stickney's of San Mateo will be the location of the first 1967 banquet of the San Mateo County Bar Association, according to Restaurant Manager Ralph Le Pinski. Among the other professional groups now utilizing the outstanding banquet facilities at this lovely new restaurant in the Fifth Avenue Center are the San Mateo County Medical Society and the San Mateo County Dental Society. Stickney's banquet facilities are located on a special lower floor, capable of seating from 25 to 250 people, and contain a private bar and dance floor.

Enjoy The Cuisine And Art At The International Inn

Yes, the excellent original oil paintings on display in the cocktail lounge of the International Inn, South San Francisco, are for sale — and they fall in the $100 to $150 price bracket, says General Manager Phil Rauscher. A real "striker": a bullfighter working with his cape. Reasonably priced, too. Worth a look-see on your next "relaxer" visit at the Inn.

Chicken to take out has proved a big hit at Bruno's, says co-owner and chef Bruno Fava. Chicken to go, with French fries, for only $1.25 — and that's hard to beat anywhere.

Vic Befera, P.P.P.R.M. (Popular Peninsula Public Relations Man), and his delightful wife were "iteming" at Scotty Campbell's in Redwood City, the other night.

Holiday Inn Movie Stars "Home Port"

Eddie Arnold, popular country-and-western singer and film star, stopped at South San Francisco's Holiday Inn with his manager, last week, en route to Hollywood for a role in Danny Kaye's latest motion picture. The Inn, near the International Airport, had quite a time making flight arrangements for Arnold, with all major airlines grounded due to heavy fog in both Northern and Southern California. The anxious Arnold finally chartered a small airplane for the trip to Los Angeles in time to begin his acting assignment.

So. San Francisco Oliver's Open For Business

Fred Martinelli of Oliver's, South San Francisco, has been having a bit of difficulty since recently opening his new restaurant. It seems it was reported by a newspaper, and later by word-of-mouth, that the restaurant was on suspension and closed.

"It's not true," stated Fred, who is making plans for a grand opening celebration in the very near future. "The suspension was on the old owners of Oliver's," continued the live-wire restaurateur, "and has nothing to do with us. We're open for business as usual — and hope to be for a long, long time."

The next time you'd like to try something unique in the way of dining out, try Toshio Kiyohara's Iriune, San Mateo's newest Japanese restaurant. Located on East 17th Avenue, this beautifully decorated restaurant will take you on a quick tour of the Orient.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Notowitz came into San Francisco to celebrate their thirtieth wedding anniversary with a dinner party held at Low Lehr's in S.F.'s Marina.

CORINNA TSOPEI, 20th Century-Fox star who was "Miss Greece" in 1964 and "Miss Universe" in 1965, was so intrigued with the unique idea of having her steak cut to order when she dined in the elegant new Wellington Room at Phil Lehr's Steakery, that she cut her own. Miss Tsopei will appear soon in the Doris Day Starrer, "Caprice."

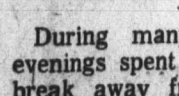

FABBO'S down Redwood City way, is still very much in action, although the street work on El Camino makes access a bit difficult. Host-owner Frank Fabbo serves excellent lunches and dinners six days a week, and the noontime crowd here is fantastic. Special dinner suggestion: The combination lobster and steak dinner for two... The free "eye-opener" fizz being offered with the Sunday Buffet Brunch at the Carrousel restaurant at the Circle Star Theater is attracting crowds these Sabbaths. Dads enjoy the generous helpings of eggs, sausage, bacon or ham plus fruits and juices. Ditto, for mothers who just like getting out of the kitchen. It's served from 10:30 till 2 p.m., priced at $2.25. When you're in the mood for Mexican-style dining, Pancho's, the award winning Mexican cafe in Redwood City, is the place to go for palate satisfaction. The plates are served heaping with the various spicy delights.

TWO HANDSOME TENORS are currently adding much male sex appeal to the zippy all-Latin revue at Luz Garcia's Sinaloa cantina, San Francisco. Willie Vargas stops the show with a poignant rendition of "I Left My Heart in San Francisco" (or does he mean Acapulco?) and romantic Victor Buelna becomes a strolling troubador after his exciting vocal display on stage... If you're looking for pianobar entertainment in a tropical atmosphere, you needn't look any further than Jim Boasso's Kahili Hut in Belmont. Michelle Rudis presides over the keyboard on Friday and Saturday nights. She's a real crowd pleaser with her sing-a-long tunes... The special $2.50 Friday and Saturday night dinners are among the big treats offered at the Sandbagger, Redwood City. Manager Ralph Ratliff also puts out an "all you can eat" buffet luncheon Saturday afternoons that is "out of this world." Served from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. No matter how much you stow away, the price is still only $1.50.

SOUTHERN COMFORT, southern hospitality, southern vintages, southern waiters, pretty well describes the New Southern restaurant in South San Francisco. A la carte and full course dinners, plus lunches, cocktails and organbar music... You'll receive a fine introduction into the wonderful world of dining when making Frances Anderson's historic Plumed Horse in Big Basin Way, Saratoga, your mealtime choice... For the convenience of their many customers who carry credit cards, the Cote d'Azur in Atherton is now accepting American Express, in addition to their regular house cards. You don't have to wait until payday anymore to enjoy one of Rene's gourmet specialties. Just use your American Express Card... The Hotel Canterbury's Ramos Fizz Brunch served every Sunday is popular with out-of-towners. It's a great way to start the day, gastronomically speaking.

Gunman Flees Shopper

A late woman shopper at the Cala Supermarket in Daly City apparently scared off a gunman after he had cleaned out one register and was "escorting" the clerk to another counter last Thursday.

Neither the woman nor the clerk were identified by police.

The "shabbily dressed" robber entered the store only minutes before a special security patrol made its rounds prior to closing time.

Leaving an accomplice parked in a battered white car near the entrance, the unshaven man approached the checkout stand, whipped out a revolver and demanded "all that money."

As the gunman grabbed more than $200 from the register a woman shopper popped from behind an aisle and walked towards the checkout stand.

The gunman turned and fled.

Police said there were only three employees working at that time of night. The others obviously did not know a robbery was in progress at the front of the Hillside Avenue store.

Described as unshaven, "very shabbily dressed" and sporting long straight hair, the gunman and his accomplice fled toward San Francisco, police said.

Meanwhile, in South San Francisco, an armed man held up a small grocery store, Liberty Market, on Linden Avenue, but escaped with only $7.

Mrs. Caroline M. Bottini, manager of the store, said a man walked into the store shortly after she opened at 6:30 a.m. and ordered a pack of cigarettes.

While she was making change for a dollar bill, he pulled a large black pistol from his raincoat and demanded the register receipts. There was only $7 in the till.

The man fled north on foot when a delivery truck pulled up in front of the store shortly after he entered, Mrs. Bottini said.

He was described as a Caucasian of medium height and build and between 25-30 years old. He was wearing a black raincoat and a black hat with a wide brim.

Posthumous Medal Given Bruno Youth

A posthumous award of the Purple Heart was presented to the parents of Army First Lt. Bruce Yates of San Bruno, who was killed in action in Vietnam last November 7.

His parents, Capt. Edgar L. Yates (U.S. Navy-retired) and Mrs. Yates, received the medal January 17 from Col. John P. Connor, commanding officer of the Presidio of San Francisco, at a ceremony in his office.

Lieutenant Yates, a member of the 1st Battalion, 21st Artillery, 1st Cavalry Division (airmobile) was killed while operating as a forward observer during a search and destroy mission.

Lieutenant Yates, 26, had been in Vietnam since March 1966. He was buried in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno, with full military honors.

Capt. and Mrs. Yates reside at 448 Chestnut Avenue, San Bruno.

$10,300 For SSF Permits

Permits for building totaling $10,300 were issued in South San Francisco last week.

Permits issued were to Richard J. Bolewinski, $5,200, addition to dwelling at 617 Theresa Drive; Hamlin Company, $300, alteration to beauty salon at 133 Hickey Boulevard; Big Eye Company, $3,000, alterations to office at 180 El Camino Real; B. S. S. F. Bad Checks --$28,000 Fraud

South San Francisco merchants have been defrauded of $28,000 in eight months through bogus checks, a police detective revealed Wednesday.

South San Francisco Detective William Peterson, speaking to the general membership meeting of the city's Chamber of Commerce at the New Southern Restaurant, said, "The bogus check is fast becoming one of the most serious threats to our economy."

He urged the businessmen to assist police in formulating a "bad check warning system" in the city, and listed a number of precautions to be taken in dealing with checks.

"The first rule I would recommend is to beware of strangers," the law officer said. "The only way you can really be certain a check is good is to verify it with the bank. Even this doesn't work sometimes. Check passers have been known to cash the check first, then beat it to the bank and withdraw the funds."

"To be safe, you should be suspicious of every check offered. I once had a case where a guy gave his brother a bad check," he said.

Peterson advised the merchants to report all bad checks to the police department immediately, to keep blank payroll checks locked up, and to destroy all outdated payroll blanks.

Fuchsia Meet Is Scheduled

The regular monthly meeting of the El Camino Fuchsia Society of San Bruno will be held on February 3 at 8 p.m. in the Auditorium of the Bell Air School, 450 Third Street, San Bruno, with Mrs. Ruth Peabody, president presiding.

Mrs. William White announced that the guest speaker will be Ted Paskensen. He will be speaking on pruning and re-potting of fuchsias. There will be a plant table and refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Mother Asks for Child She Left at Mary's Help

An infant child admitted to Mary's Help Hospital January 6 and apparently abandoned by its parents is being retained at the San Mateo County Receiving Home pending a court hearing next month, a Juvenile Probation Department spokesman said late last week.

Hospital officials turned 2-month-old Susan Derek over to the county January 19 after her mother failed to return to the hospital for her.

The mother, Mrs. Helen Derek, of San Francisco, had the child admitted to the hospital for treatment of malnutrition and a lung ailment.

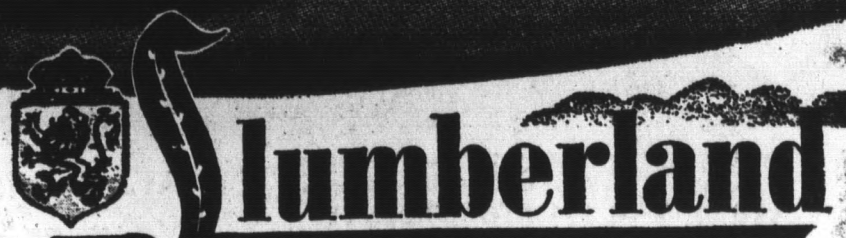

After the child recovered, hospital officials attempted to locate the mother, but discovered an address listed on the admission papers did not exist.

A juvenile probation officer said Mrs. Derek telephoned two days after the department assumed custody of Susan and said she would like to claim the child.

The probation department filed for a custody hearing in behalf of the child, and a San Mateo County juvenile judge will consider the case February 13.

The child's father reportedly resides in Fresno, where he works as a laborer.

Canadian Style Bacon Is Broiled

It takes a whiz of a woman to dash home from her job and get dinner on the table in record time. Families do get hungry so she must not take too long about it.

On some days she can prepare much of the meal in advance ready to reheat and serve but convenience foods, quick-cooking foods are the answer to those other days.

When foods can be broiled, this is time-saving. A delicious meat that's quickly and easily broiled is Canadian-style bacon. Broiled fruits are appealing flavor combinations.

Canadian-Style Bacon Grill

- 6 slices Canadian-style bacon, cut 1/2-inch thick
- 6 cling peach halves
- 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
- 6 cooked, pitted prunes

Place bacon on rack in broiler pan. Arrange peaches, cut side down, on rack with meat and brush with melted butter or margarine. Set regulator for broiling and insert broiler pan and rack so the top surface of the bacon and peaches is 2 to 3 inches from the heat. Broil 6 minutes, turn bacon and peaches and place a prune on each peach half. Brush fruit with melted butter or margarine. Continue broiling 6 minutes or until lightly browned. 4 to 6 servings.

Dates, Sugar Add Moisture To Cookies

Dates and brown sugar contribute flavor interest as well as moistness to drop cookies. The use of lard as the fat gives them shortness and good eating quality.

This is an easy cookie to mix since it uses the conventional method of creaming lard and sugar, then blending in remaining ingredients. When cinnamon and cloves are sifted with part of the flour, even flavoring is assured.

Date-Nut Drops

- 1 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour
- 1/4 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
- 1/4 pound pitted dates, chopped (about 1/2 cup)
- 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
- 1/2 cup lard
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1/4 cup milk
- 1 egg

Sift together 1 1/4 cups flour, baking powder, soda, salt, cinnamon and cloves. Mix remaining 1/4 cup flour with chopped dates and nuts. Cream lard with brown sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg and mix well. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk to creamed mixture. Stir in floured dates and nuts. Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased cookie sheets. Bake in moderate oven (375 Degrees F.) 10 to 15 minutes. Yield: 3 dozen cookies.

HOMESTUFFED POTATOES
6 large baking potatoes (3 1/4 pounds)
1/4 pound butter
1 container (8 ounces) commercial sour cream
1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon white pepper
Paprika

Bake potatoes in a 400-degree oven until tender — about 1 hour. Cut in half lengthwise; scoop out pulp reserving shells; put pulp through ricer into a large bowl; at once mix in butter until melted, then sour cream, salt and pepper. Spoon back into shells. Flatten and ripple with flat side of fork tines; sprinkle with paprika. Cover and refrigerate. Reheat in 400-degree oven until piping hot and browned — 30 to 45 minutes. Makes 12 small servings.

Nut Crescents Always a Favorite Among Cookies

An enterprising cook is likely to try her hand at baking that all-time favorite — nut crescents.

This year a friend passed along a version of the recipe that was popular in her Ohio home when she was growing up. This is a rich cookie, and the nuts that go into the dough — and make it particularly delicious — are toasted filberts. Although these cookies are rolled in confectioners sugar, they are not overly sweet — just pleasantly so.

The donor of this recipe tells us that her family always used vanilla sugar to roll the cookies in after they were baked. If this interests you, follow her suggestion: put a pound of confectioners sugar into a canister, add a vanilla bean and allow the combination to stand until the sugar absorbs the flavor of the bean. Our friend says, "If the vanilla is fresh, usually 24 hours standing time does the trick."

This version of nut crescents is a roll-and-cut recipe. When we were young, one of our older sisters made this type of cookie, but she shaped them by hand. Having tried this rolled variety, we're inclined to favor its trimmer appearance.

Unless you are experienced at rolling out cookies, we urge you to use a pastry cloth and stockinet-covered rolling pin instead of a floured board or other surface. We mention this because one day recently we had a long-distance call from our niece. She simply couldn't manage to roll out cookie dough, and her small boy was so disappointed. What should she do? She followed our advice, acquired the pastry accessories, and now all is well.

New cooks will also find it helpful to roll out only part of a rich cookie dough at one time — as we suggest in this recipe — keeping the rest of the dough chilled.

FT. BERT CRESCENTS

- 1 cup butter
- 1/2 cup sifted confectioners sugar
- 1 egg yolk
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 1/2 cups sifted regular flour
- 1 1/4 cups finely chopped toasted filberts
- Extra sifted confectioners sugar

In a mixing bowl, cream the butter; add the 1/2 cup sifted confectioners sugar, egg yolk, salt and vanilla; beat to blend. With a wooden spoon, gradually stir in the flour, then the filberts, mixing well. Cover and chill until firm.

Using a prepared pastry cloth and prepared stockinet-covered rolling pin, roll out one-quarter of the dough at a time so it is about 1/4-inch thick. (Keep dough you are not rolling refrigerated.) Cut out cookies with a crescent-shape cookie cutter flouring it if necessary. Place cookies about 1-inch apart on ungreased cookie sheets. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until lightly browned — about 10 minutes. Remove with a wide spatula to wire racks; cool; roll in extra sifted confectioners sugar. Store in tightly covered container. Yield will depend on size of cookie cutter.

Note: To prepare the filberts for this recipe 8 turn the nuts into a shallow pan — one that is about 1/2-inch high is fine. (Have the nuts in one layer.) Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven until they have rich toasted flavor — usually 10 to 15 minutes shake them a couple of times while they're baking. Remove any of the brown skins that will come off by rubbing the nuts between your palms. Chop them fine in a

Roast Pork Flavor Accent

Accent the flavor of roast pork or pork chops with tangy hot peaches. Stir a spoonful of mango chutney into mayonnaise and spoon-dab a little into canned peach halves. Sprinkle lightly with flaked coconut and heat in hot oven about 10 minutes or run under broiler briefly. Garnish the meat platter with peaches.

Over 100, Still Delectable

Ambrosia a 19th century dessert, has remained popular all these years. A simple combination of fresh oranges, grated coconut and sugar, its appeal may be due in part to the fact that it is so refreshing after a substantial winter meal.

As far as we can trace the recipe, it first appeared in an American cook book in the 1950s. Interestingly enough, the difference between that old-time version and the classic modern one is small. Originally the oranges were cut in "rather thick" slices. Now, as in the following recipe, the fruit may be sliced into membrane-free sections.

The sections make for easy eating. And there's a change, too, in the coconut. Originally fresh coconut was always used; now more often than not the prepared variety is called for. But you can make the choice and suit yourself.

And still another difference. Ambrosia, in the 1850s, was called "Orange Cocoa-Nut." But what's in a name? The writer of the 19th century cook book said of her dish:

"This is a handsome and delicious article for a suppertable, and a nice impromptu addition to the dessert at a dinner; and soon prepared, as it requires no cooking." Modern cooks acquainted with Ambrosia are likely to concur.

1965 AMBROSIA
3 cups membrane-free fresh orange sections
2 tablespoons confectioners sugar
1/2 cup grated fresh or canned flaked coconut
In a glass serving bowl, or in individual glass cups or dessert dishes, layer the orange sections, confectionery sugar and coconut; begin with the oranges and end with the coconut. Makes 4 servings.

Note: To prepare the oranges

Compote Is Good Starter

A warm fruit compote is a good starter for a chilly winter morning. Heat canned fruit cocktail in its syrup, adding a touch of cinnamon and grated orange rind. Serve as breakfast fruit with buttered cinnamon toast.

— with a sharp knife remove the rind from the fruit so that no white membrane remains. Insert the knife along each dividing membrane and cut the pulp away from it to free the sections; do this over a bowl to catch the juice.

Anybody Know Where Philpy Got Its Name?

Here's where we ask for help. We've tested recipes for it. This is one of them:

PHILPY
3/4 cup sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup enriched white or yellow cornmeal
1 cup milk
1 large egg
3 tablespoons shortening, soft
1 cup cooked rice
Extra butter
Strawberry or raspberry jam, if desired

Grease the bottom of three 8-inch round layer-cake pans. Line bottoms with wax paper; grease paper.

Into a medium mixing bowl, sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and cornmeal. Add the milk, egg and soft shortening. With a rotary beater (hand or electric) beat until smooth — about 1 minute; do not overbeat or bread will have tunnels. Lightly stir in the cooked rice.

Divide the batter evenly among the three prepared pans. To do so, spoon batter into the center of a pan, then with the sides of the pan against the palms of your hands, rotate the pan so the batter will spread evenly to the edges.

Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven until a cake tester inserted in the center comes out clean — 20 to 25 minutes. (Tops will be a pale color) If you use one oven, place 2 of the pans on one rack a little higher than center, then place the remaining pan on the rack beneath but not directly under the other pans.

Cut the thin layers into wedges in the pans and serve at once with a generous amount of butter.

Or turn out one layer of the bread onto a serving plate; remove the wax paper; slather with a generous amount of butter; top with the remaining layers in similar fashion. Do this carefully because layers are thin and on the crumbly side. If you want a sweet touch, add a layer of jam over each slathering of butter.

Makes 8 to 12 servings.

America Gave England Strawberries

Often thought of as English, strawberries were actually imported to England from America in the 17th Century. This moist cake wears a majestic cloak of whole strawberries and strawberry glaze.

RUBY-CROWNED CAKE ROYALE

- 1 Package (1-pound, 1-ounce) Pound Cake Mix
- 1 teaspoon ground cardamom
- 3/4 cup milk
- 2 eggs, separated and at room temperature
- 2 egg whites, at room temperature
- 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup sugar
- GLAZE
- 1 pint fresh strawberries
- 1-3 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup water
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 1 teaspoon butter or margarine

To prepare cake: Combine Pound Cake Mix and cardamom; prepare according to package directions using only egg yolks. Beat 2 egg whites with cream or tartar until stiff but not dry. Gently fold into batter. Pour into a greased 9-inch spring form pan. Bake in a preheated slow oven (325 deg. F.) 50 minutes or until done. Let stand in pan 30 minutes on wire rack. Remove only sides; cool. Scoop out a little of center of cake. Place on cookie sheet. Beat remaining 2 egg whites with salt until stiff but not dry. Gradually beat in sugar until glossy. Spread a thin layer of meringue around sides of cake. Pile remaining meringue around top edge. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Remove from cookie sheet. Cool on wire rack.

To prepare glaze: Wash and hull strawberries. Crush enough berries to make 1/2 cup. Combine crushed berries, sugar, water and cornstarch in a small saucepan. Bring to a boil; boil 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Strain. Arrange whole strawberries in center of cake. Pour glaze over strawberries. Allow to stand at least 1/2 hour before serving. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

or pour into a greased 9-inch cake pan which has been lined with greased wax paper. Bake 55 minutes or until done. Cool in pan 30 minutes. Remove from pan; remove paper and cool on wire rack. Before spreading with meringue, place cake on an aluminum foil-lined cookie sheet.

Jefferson Newsletter To Parents

The Jefferson Elementary School District has started publication of a monthly newsletter that hopefully will enable both the administration and board to "facilitate communication between the school and the home."

Bannered "Your Schools — a report from your board of trustees," the four-page newsletter was expected to reach some 10,000 parents of children attending elementary schools in Daly City.

Cost of the publication will be "about $50 per issue and will come out only eight times per year," Supt. Frank Greenwood revealed.

The school district has been criticized by district parents and teachers in the past because of what was called "poor communications."

"We hope to print a variety of items of interest to parents, including P-TA announcements, in the newsletter," Greenwood said.

He said the Board of Trustees had wanted to put out a newsletter for several months, but kept postponing the project.

In the initial issue, Greenwood's cover article explained the reason for the newsletter ("better communications") and hoped the reader would "find it informative."
